Waves Of U.S. And South Vietnamese Warplanes Blast Red Barracks' Areas In North Viet Nam; U.S. Loses Pilot

By JOHN T. WHEELER SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—About 150 U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes ripped targets in North Viet Nam with bombs and rockets today in reprisal for the latest in a series of Viet Cong attacks.

The Red attacks were capped Wednesday night by the blasting of a U.S. enlisted men's barracks at Qui Nhon, in which 22 Americans are believed to have been killed.

More than 100 carrier-based planes of the U.S. 7th Fleet attacked from the South China Sea in this third and heaviest reprisal strike since Sunday. They hit at Chang Hoa and Chan Le.

3 PLANES DOWN

Three of the Navy planes went down, but apparently not directly from enemy fire. Two fell in the sea and one crashed landed at the Da Nang base. Two of the pilots were rescued.

Twenty-eight Vietnamese fighter-bombers and an escort of 20 U.S. Air Force F100 jet fighters struck across the 17th parallel at points near the border.

Heavy columns of smoke streamed up from the target areas.

All the land-based craft returned safely. There were believed to have been no casualties aboard them.

HIT STAGING AREAS

The Vietnamese planes smashed at staging areas for Viet Cong infiltrators with rockets and bombs after the American jets worked over the areas' defenses with their own rockets and bombs.

The commander of the Vietnamese air force, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, said his planes

Gen. Ky declined to say whether jets from the U.S. 7th Fleet also raided North Viet Nam today. He said no 7th Fleet planes were with his group but indicated Navy planes might have been in action elsewhere.

Ky led the raid on Monday but did not fly on the strike today.

At Qui Nhon, rescuers pulled out two American soldiers alive from the debris of the concrete enlisted men's quarters shattered by the Viet Cong explosion Wednesday night.

Clark Says He Remembers Nothing Of Shooting Of His Wife, Mother-in-law

Alton Blair Clark, New Oxford, on trial in Adams County court for his life on two murder charges, this morning reiterated that he can remember nothing of events immediately surrounding the fatal shooting of his wife and mother-in-law in the driveway at the Kuhn Convalescent Home, New Oxford R. 1, on the night of last October 14.

He testified that he "must have killed" the two women.

Both in direct testimony Wednesday afternoon and in cross-examination this morning, the Korean War veteran and New Oxford mail carrier told in detail of his life from his youth until the present day, including his halting his car on the night of October 14 across the driveway at the convalescent home.

He insisted that up to that point his only desire was to speak to his wife.

The next thing he recalls, he testified, is being on a road near New Chester in the vicinity of his childhood farm home. There he realized that he had "done a terrible thing."

In cross-examination this morning he said the knowledge that he had slain the two women came to him "like a flashback," and he drove to the state police substation here.

York Springs Man Injured In Crash

Bert W. Trimmer, 70, York Springs R. 2, suffered chest injuries, a broken finger on the right hand, shock and other injuries when his car and a truck collided Wednesday morning at 10:30 a.m. He was admitted as a patient at the Warner Hospital.

State police said Trimmer attempted an abrupt left turn in the path of the truck owned by Frank Mercurio, Harrisburg, and operated by Harry E. Albert Jr., 35, Harrisburg. After the crash the truck ran into a porch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smiley, East Berlin R. 2.

The accident occurred two miles south of York Springs on the Hanover-Carlisle Rd. at its intersection with a legislative route. Damage was estimated at $100 to the car and $250 to the truck. No estimate of damage was made to the porch which had been under repair when the truck hit it.

NO DECISION BY STATE BD. UNTIL MARCH

The expected decision of the state Board of Education at Harrisburg on the interlocking appeals from the York and Adams County plans of school reorganization did not come today.

"The state board is not ready to make a definite decision on the York and Adams County appeals," a spokesman for the board announced late this morning as the board drew near the end of its current three-day session.

Assurance was given, however, that the decision will be forthcoming in March.

HAVE HEAVY CALENDAR

The vast volume of business before the state board and its Councils of High Education and Vocational Education was taken to supply the reason for the new delay on the York-Adams appeals which had been hoped for in January and regarded as likely to come today.

The Board of Education has announced appeal decisions in 13 county plans, has completed hearings and is studying appeals in 10 other counties, including Adams, and has started hearings on appeals in five other counties. Appeals in 10 other counties have not yet been started. One board staff member estimated more than 60 hearings are yet to be started or completed.

COMPLEX PROCEEDING

When the York-Adams appeals were heard by a committee of the state board early in November, Ira C. Gross, chairman of the hearing committee assigned to these appeals, estimated the board's decision might not be ready "before March or April."

BLOOD DONORS

The Warner Hospital blood donor list from February 4 until February 9 follows: William Swisher, Mary Theresa Welkert, Genevieve Baker, James Loar, Paul Callahan, Richard Sprankle, Fred Nagle, Dolores Qually, Merwin Legore, Harry McDannell, David Smeak, Geraldine Bushey, Patrick Roth, Fred Baltzley, Carl Hepler, Stanley Sprankle, Hazel Harmon and James Anthony.

Testimony of police as to what occurred and what he said in the police office here and at the Warner Hospital is correct, Clark agreed, both in his direct testimony and in cross-examination.

BURSTS INTO SOBS

In cross-examination today, Clark was composed throughout but it was not always so on Wednesday afternoon.

Clark said Wednesday that on the night of October 14 his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mae B. Kuhn, 58, driving her Cadillac with her daughter, Mrs. Dolores Laura Clark, 36, pulled into the driveway at the convalescent home.

"I pulled in behind them to see my wife and talk to her. I hadn't seen her for a month or longer. I got out of the car . . ." Clark had been speaking more and more slowly as he reached this point in his testimony, seeming reluctant to go ahead. He stopped for long moments, shook his head then blurted: "That must have been when I killed my wife and mother-in-law," and burst into sobs.

Members of his family in the court room also began sobbing, and the court declared a recess until the defendant could compose himself.

HAD HEAD INJURY

Clark testified that he was a member of a New Oxford area family and graduated from New Oxford High School as valedictorian of his class. In April, 1943, he was driving his car in New Oxford, fell asleep and it crashed into a tree in New Oxford square. He suffered a skull fracture in the accident, and for some time was unconscious and hospitalized. Ever since the accident, he held, he has suffered from a dull pain in the left side of his head which becomes more intense in times of emotional stress. He testified that before the accident he was outgoing, had many friends and played baseball and other sports. Afterwards, his personality changed. He gave up sport activities and "withdrew into myself."

He was listed as 4-F during World War II because of his skull injury, but later was accepted for military duty on a limited basis doing office work. When the Korean War broke out he was recalled to active duty, again doing office work. He became a postman in New Oxford 15½ years ago.

In 1957 he married the former Dolores Laura Kuhn. It was his first and her second marriage. On his wedding night, he said, she told him she did not want normal marital relations, because she feared to have children.

"MY LOVE, MY LIFE"

He testified that he wanted children, but became reconciled to the marital relationship preferred by his wife. In cross-examination this morning he insisted that if his wife had told someone else that relationship was his preference, she had lied.

He testified he showered gifts on his wife, and reiterated on a number of occasions that she was "My love, my life" and "the light of my life."

He said he wanted her to live with him in his apartment after their marriage, but at her request they resided in a trailer behind the Kuhn Convalescent Home where she was employed by her mother.

SEPARATED TWICE

In August, 1963, Mrs. Clark left the trailer and moved into the convalescent home. "I don't know to this day why she moved to the house," he held.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A Titan 3A rocket blasted off today in an effort to execute several orbit shifting, satellite injection maneuvers which must be perfected for military space missions.

The three-stage 12-story tall booster thundered skyward at 12:19 p.m. on the most complex assignment ever given a U. S. rocket.

Titan 3A's 4-hour and 20-minute space gymnastics exercise called for the first triple ignition of a rocket engine in space, four changes of orbit and the release of three satellites—including an experimental military communications vehicle.

TOKYO (AP) — Radio Hanoi claimed North Vietnamese forces "shot down seven U. S. planes, damaged many others" and captured one American pilot today.

Clark Says

She returned in November after "I pleaded with her to return." After her return "we were again in love" and that lasted until April, 1964, when he found himself forced out of the trailer and had to move to a motel, again separated from his wife.

Clark said that his mother-in-law, he felt, was the cause of the problems between him and his wife. He agreed in cross-examination: "I resented her," and said: "I was most unhappy and I would say I blamed most of my unhappiness on my mother-in-law and to a lesser degree blamed my wife."

But he denied that he had ever become more than "mildly angry" with either, and said he would never have done anything to hurt his wife, and would not have hurt his mother-in-law because she was a "lady" and because his wife had such an affection for her mother.

FEARED HOODLUMS

Clark said he purchased the first .38 calibre Colt Cobra in July, 1962 "for protection against hoodlums." He said he had had an experience with "hoodlums" in Baltimore, and after that bought the gun because "there were hoodlums in Harrisburg, York, every city," who attack when cars stop for traffic lights or stop signs. Under cross-examination he said he would shoot "hoodlums" if they attacked him.

CONSIDERED SUICIDE

Clark agreed in cross-examination that he was having increasing difficulties with his wife in July, 1962, but there was "no relationship between buying the gun and my wife." In cross-examination, he said there was "no reason" for the purchase of the second revolver in 1964.

Clark said he was contemplating suicide on the night of October 14 as he sat in his parked car in a parking lot between Cross Keys Diner and the Kuhn Convalescent Home waiting for his wife and mother-in-law to drive from the diner to the convalescent home.

He was "very distraught and despondent," he said, and "I considered suicide." He took all the aspirin in a paper bag in his car. He said he had bought a bottle of 100 aspirin earlier and put them in the bag because it was easier to take aspirin out of the bag than from the bottle.

He said he took aspirin for the pain in his head but never took more than a dozen a day.

District Attorney Gerald Walmer reminded Clark of the testimony given Wednesday afternoon by State Police Lt. Edward Curthurs which showed ballistic examination disclosed that the three shots in the body of Mrs. Kuhn came from one revolver and the three shots in the head of Mrs. Clark came from the other revolver, three empty shells found beside Mrs. Clark came from the gun that had shot Mrs. Kuhn.

Walmer then asked: "Do you remember standing over Delores and reloading the gun with which you had shot Mrs. Kuhn and then shooting into Delores again?" Clark denied any recollection of the events.

He said that his first clear recollection after stopping at the convalescent home was vomiting near New Chester.

Rev. Archie Rohrbach testified to Clark having been a member of his church and a member of the church's governing body. He also told of Clark coming to him for help in his marital problems. Richard E. Sneider, York private detective, told of Clark's having him trail Mrs. Clark and testifying to his emotional condition when he spoke of his estranged wife.

NO DECISION

A full day was devoted to the November hearing of the Hanover appeal from the York County plan asking that Conewago Twp. of Adams County be included in the York County plan as part of the Hanover district; the request of the Conewago board for a merger with Hanover, the request of the McSherrystown school district to be allowed to continue as an independent school district and the petitions of East Berlin borough and Mt. Pleasant and Straban Twp. that all of Adams County be merged into a single school district.

The Adams County plan, adopted by the county board of school directors last May on a 3-2 vote, provides for six school districts instead of the current 21 districts and assigns Conewago Twp. and McSherrystown to the New Oxford unit. The other units would include Gettysburg, Fairfield, Upper Adams, Littlestown and Berksman Springs.

Other news reports from Harrisburg today stated that the state Council on Vocational Education removed from its calendar the request of Adams County for designation as an attendance area for an area technical high school.

Bonn Officials Mum On Israeli Arms

BONN, Germany (AP) — The government maintained an embarrassed silence today on Egyptian Prime Minister Aly Sabry's announcement that West Germany had agreed to end arms shipments to Israel.

Official sources had no statement. The Israeli mission in Cologne said it had received no notification from the government.

One difficulty was that since West Germany has never officially admitted the existence of the arms agreement, it is hard to formulate an official statement repudiating it.

Urges Early Bid For Farm Workers

Farm operators seeking year-round permanent farm employees were reminded today by Ronald K. Baltzley, manager of Pennsylvania's Bureau of Employment Security, Gettysburg, that now is the time to recruit such workers.

At the same time, Baltzley urged persons interested in such full-time farm jobs to register with the Gettysburg Local BES Office, 39 West St., as soon as possible.

He said that Melvin Burton, farm placement representative of the local BES office, will assist farmers in recruiting needed workers for all types of farm occupations. This assistance also will be offered for the recruitment of skilled professional and technical personnel for "off-farm" agricultural occupations.

According to Baltzley, many of the job openings already listed by area farmers include suitable housing not only for farm workers but also for their families.

JOHNSON ASKS "IMMEDIATE" END TO STRIKE

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sent word to striking longshoremen and management negotiators today that the nation's interest requires an "immediate settlement" of the month-long walkout.

Johnson's statement was relayed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz at a hearing called by Johnson to seek a prompt end to the strike at Atlantic and Gulf ports that has cost the nation's economy an estimated $6 billion.

Johnson Wednesday named Wirtz, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor, and Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to hear from both sides, and make recommendations for a settlement of the strike, involving some 60,000 longshoremen.

AWAITS REPORT

"There is only one conceivable report this group can take to the President of the United States at 12 noon tomorrow, and that is a complete settlement," Wirtz said.

Although agreement has been reached on new contracts in some ports, the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association has refused to budge from its policy of continuing the strike until all ports settle.

Thomas W. Gleason, union president, has said of the union position: "If we went back to work we would be sacrificing our union and we don't intend to do this."

Arms Shipments To Israel Will Cease

CAIRO (AP) — Prime Minister Aiy Sabry said Wednesday night that West Germany has agreed to stop shipping arms to Israel. He told the National Assembly that in return Egypt would support reunification of Germany.

The expression of support for German unity was interpreted to mean that Egypt would not recognize Communist East Germany, whose president, Walter Ulbricht, is to visit Cairo on Feb. 26.

There was no immediate reaction or confirmation from Bonn to Sabry's announcement.

University of Scouting sessions were announced beginning February 16 and plans were discussed for the Scoutarama March 12 and 13.

Reports were presented on the Parents' Night covered dish supper held at the church Monday evening with about 150 in attendance. There was a film and discussion of the Scouting program.

COUNCIL PLANS MARKET ORDER FOR CHERRIES

The red cherry industry is in the process of implementing a federal marketing order for surplus management. A federal marketing order is a tool made available to growers and processors by Congress in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1937. In 1961, this act was amended by Senate Bill 3021 sponsored by Senator Hart to include cherries for processing.

Stated quite simply, an advisory board composed of 12 growers and six processors elected by the industry to determine the maximum tonnage that can be successfully marketed in any one year in the United States, and provide that only that amount can be received by processors for freezing and canning.

The National Cherry Growers Council is sponsoring the marketing order. William Gifford is chairman of the committee for seeing that the order as written is given a fair hearing. Also serving on the committee are Everett Weiser, York Springs R. 1, and John Peters, Gardners R. 1. Hearings will be held in Gettysburg March 10 and 11, and March 15 in Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

BASED ON HARVEST

If the crop is large and a given percentage is declared to be in surplus by the determination of the grower-processor advisory committee then growers will be asked to have this surplus processed as a set-aside for use in other markets or in another year or leave the cherries unharvested or sell them for juice. For instance, due to the enormous crop harvested in 1964, it appears that 65,000,000 pounds of cherries will be carried over into 1965. If the crop this year is estimated at 300,000,000 pounds, then the committee might determine that the normal market for cherries should not exceed a total supply of 328,500,000 pounds. This would mean that 36,500,000 pounds of the new crop should be withheld from the 1965 harvest. This amounts to 12% of the estimated crop. Processors would be instructed that 12% of all the cherries received from growers must be processed in accordance with a grade and style of pack determined by the committee and turned over to the committee for future disposition.

Processors would be paid for processing this 12% at a fair cost determined by the committee and paid for by the grower from returns due him on the 88% delivered. However, if the growers decides that he does not want to risk picking costs and processing costs on the 12% set aside, he may ask permission from the committee to leave them unharvested. In this event, the committee will see that his orchards are inspected before harvest and that 12% of his productive orchard is marked to be left unharvested. He then will receive a preliminary certificate indicating he is free to deliver his harvest tonnage to a processor. After harvest, the 12% left unharvested will once again be inspected and he will be given a certificate of compliance by the advisory committee.

STOCKS MIXED

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed, with some blue chips weakening early this afternoon. Trading was active.

After an irregular start, the list moved a little higher on balance, some averages showing slight gains in early trading. Brokers ascribed the strength to a technical recovery as traders picked up stock at low levels following Wednesday's plunge on the Viet Nam news.

Around mid-session, however, some key stocks began to slide. Standard Oil (New Jersey) fell about 2 points, Anaconda more than a point.

According to Stewart L. Baur, Penn-Laurel Council finance director, the council spent approximately $48,900 for the maintenance and further development of its camping facilities in 1964. Included among its expansion of facilities was the acquisition of a 100-acre site at Cornwell Furnace near the Lebanon-Lancaster County line. This site is used now for primitive camping and will be developed further during the coming year with the building of shelters and a winterized unit to make the site adaptable for day camping and year-round camping by troops. The camp development and maintenance budget for 1965 has been approved recently by the Council Board of Directors at almost $60,000, according to Mr. Baur, and includes maintenance and improvements of every site the council owns.

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is a short story which could be called "An Afternoon at George E. Reedy's Place" or better, maybe, "An Afternoon at Lyndon B. Johnson's Place."

Reedy is President Johnson's press secretary with his office in one of the White House wings. On the right, going in, is the press room, full of reporters' desks and telephones.

Straight ahead, going in, is a huge room, a lobby, with leather chairs and sofas and big oval table where reporters who don't regularly cover the White House dump their hats and overcoats.

THEIR ONLY LINK

To the left, through a little hallway, is Reedy's place. This towering man with thick, horn-rimmed glasses, and gray hair so thick and high it looks bouffant, likes pipes, music and fishing. He's a slow talker.

He briefs the press for Johnson except on those days when the President holds an open news conference, which isn't often. So these meetings with Reedy for most reporters most of the time are their only link with Johnson.

There are exceptions. Johnson frequently calls in certain newsmen and talks to them for background which means they can say what he said so long as they don't say he said it.

COUNCIL CALLED

The lobby Wednesday was jammed with reporters waiting for the word from Reedy because Wednesday was an unusual day, and they were very serious.

Johnson had called his National Security Council into emergency session because earlier the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam had really cut some capers.

Over the weekend, after they had attacked an American airbase, Johnson ordered a bomber raid on North Viet Nam in retaliation. This was truly tit-for-tat although the White House explained it more stiffly: "The response was appropriate and fitting."

OBVIOUS TEST

Then in a clear effort to test the American will to go on helping the South Vietnamese resist the Reds, the guerrillas made blazing attacks Wednesday throughout Viet Nam, even blowing up an American billet.

ONLY ONE QUESTION

So the reporters in the lobby had only one question on their minds: What would Johnson and the National Security Council do now to meet this new test?

Reedy called in the newsmen at 4 p.m. but it was a big bust. He would only say what everyone knew: That the situation in Viet Nam was "receiving the closest attention."

The reporters pelted Reedy with questions to try to loosen him up but he wouldn't budge and nobody was mad at him. He couldn't say more than Johnson wanted him to say.

AMAZING TIMING

At last, with a brief "thank you," the reporters burst out of Reedy's office and into the lobby on their way to phones or their coats. And at that very instant Johnson burst out of another door and strode across the lobby.

At top speed he went out the door opening on the White House grounds. The reporters forgot their phones and their coats and went after him.

Johnson's timing was amazing. He had emerged at the best possible moment to get the most attention from the most reporters, in fact, all the reporters, although there is no evidence to support this kind of speculation here.

MUST BE BUGGED

That Reedy's office is bugged — meaning it is equipped with a listening device that enables Johnson to sit in his office and hear what goes in Reedy's briefings. The White House has disclaimed any such bugging.

Johnson walked fast up one White House walk and fast back down another, all of it taking no more than five minutes, with perhaps a hundred newsmen trotting around and behind him. He led them like the Pied Piper and then disappeared indoors again.

The newsmen got nothing from him, either. He said no more than Reedy. But when they got back to their phones they reported he had walked around the White House yard in a "relaxed fashion."

And maybe that was his sole reason for what he did: To give the impression to the country, the Russians, the Red Chinese and the Vietnamese guerrillas that he was taking everything in stride, relaxed.

If this was the reason, he chose a very dramatic way to show the situation was undramatic.

VIET NAM WAR BRINGS TIGHT CONTROL CHAIN

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the strange new kind of war being fought in Viet Nam, detailed military shots are being called in Washington as never before in history.

This is because each military move against the Communists outside the borders of South Viet Nam is loaded with potential for bringing on a big-scale war.

In pre-atomic days, military commanders directed military operations once the fighting began. This was true in Korea, too, although a decision against carrying the war north of the Yalu into Red China was made by President Harry S. Truman.

CONTROLLED RESPONSE

The advent of the Kennedy administration brought to power a group of civilians, led by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who believed in the idea of controlled response to Communist threats and actions.

The aim was to keep a tight reign on military moves, to tailor the response to the threat, and to limit any clash to the lowest level possible.

The objective was to minimize the danger of accidental war, to prevent a situation from getting out of hand and escalating into general war — into a war that might lead ultimately to a dreaded nuclear exchange.

EXTREME CAUTION

Thus, the command and control system was built up to an extent never before achieved — and the reins of that system led to the highest levels of the Pentagon and White House. Development of that system had started earlier, but was accelerated by McNamara.

One practical application of tightened civilian control over military operations was seen in the 1962 Cuban missile crisis.

During last summer's Gulf of Tonkin shooting incident and again last weekend when the Communists attacked a U.S. compound and airfield near Pleiku, the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended a list of targets for retaliation and the method of attacking them. President Johnson, McNamara and the National Security Council accepted the basic recommendations of the chiefs.

After the civilian officials had given their assent, the orders were passed down through the chain of command — through the U.S. commander in the Pacific, based at Honolulu, then to the commander of the Navy's 7th Fleet and U.S. military chiefs in Viet Nam.

Governor Delays Execution Date

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton today deferred from Feb. 15 to the week of May 10 the scheduled execution date of convicted murderer Carl Melton. The respite was granted because Melton has an application for commutation of his death sentence to life imprisonment pending before the state Board of Pardons, Scranton's office said.

The board heard the petition last November, and is holding the case under advisement.

A board official explained that this action was taken because Herman Rucker, who was convicted in the same slaying, has an appeal pending before the U.S. Supreme Court.

The two men were convicted in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Rose Schloss, Philadelphia storekeeper, in 1958.

Cadette Troop 757, Fairfield, honored Mrs. Charles Taylor

Wednesday evening at a surprise birthday party following the regular troop meeting with a three-tier birthday cake baked by Jane Weikert and Vickie Haines. The troop also observed Mrs. Taylor's eight years in Girl Scout work. The affair was planned by the social hospitality challenge group, comprised of Betsy Neely, Linda Ickes, Bonnie Flenner, Mary Ann Kittinger, Nancy Ickes and Pamela Taylor. The troop discussed plans for the bowling tournament, which will start April 24. Bonnie Flenner, Bonnie Schultz and Betsy Neely discussed progress on the exhibit they will display at the rally in Biglerville February 20. Mrs. George Flenner, cookie chairman, discussed the annual cookie drive and announced that the cookie station will be located at her home. Mrs. Raymond Myers and Mrs. Flenner assisted Mrs. Taylor in conducting the meeting.

Plans were announced for the annual Blue and Gold dinner to be held in the school cafeteria on March 23. The pack will hold a ceremony Friday in commemoration of Lincoln's Birthday. A program will be held in the afternoon at the Lincoln Speech Memorial in the National Cemetery. A wreath donated by Frank Murray will be placed at the monument.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the committee. Mrs. Bernard Frazer was introduced as a new den mother of Den 1.

REACH PACT IN DOCK FUSS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Agreement has been reached between shippers and all International Longshoremen Association union locals here, a federal mediator reported today.

Mediator John R. Murray said the agreements with four small locals and that reached last Sunday with the 2,500 man local 1291 will be submitted for ratification starting today.

Murray said settlement of the last four contracts, hammered out after 23 hours of continuous negotiations, places the Port of Philadelphia in a position of ready to work as soon as the union's international officers give the word.

I.L.A. officials are sticking to a policy of no work until contracts are negotiated by all its locals from Maine to Galveston, Tex.

A special White House committee is seeking to settle the walkout that has tied up shipping on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. Galveston and Miami are the only points now where contracts still are unsettled.

HULL SERVICES

Funeral services were held from the Wilson Funeral Home, Fairfield, Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Lillie Grace Hull, 86, Gettysburg R. 2, who died Saturday at the Warner Hospital. Rev. Robert N. Paden officiated. Burial was made in St. Jacob's Cemetery, Fountaindale. Pallbearers were Vernon Riley, Norman Riley, Earl Stine, Ellis Stine, Charles Hankey and Upton Brown.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the

TWENTY YEARS AGO

An appeal for coat hangers for use by the soldiers stationed at the U.S. Army Reception Center at New Cumberland was made this morning by the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

Pfc. Morris M. Steinhour Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Steinhour, 243 North Washington street, was burned about the face and hands by an explosion in a kitchen stove somewhere in France the day after Christmas, his parents have learned by mail.

Private Steinhour, who is serving with the gas supply unit of the Quartermaster Corps, said in a letter to his parents that "the burns are healing nicely and at present it looks like there aren't going to be any scars."

The young soldier has been overseas for 14 months.

Leander G. Martin, 74, veteran battlefield guide, dropped dead at 10:15 o'clock Friday morning in front of the building in which he lived at 100 York street, Gettysburg.

Mr. Martin had been seriously ill for three weeks and had been up and about only since Saturday week. Earlier in the winter he had worked at Shriver's service station, 100 York street. He resided on the second floor of that building.

He was one of the oldest of Gettysburg's guides and had followed that vocation for more than 30 years in which time he had recounted the story of the three-day battle here to many of Gettysburg's notable visitors. Before becoming a guide he worked for the late George Faber as a cigar maker.

Icy sidewalks and streets and highways made pedestrian and vehicular traffic hazardous this morning and pedestrians suffered the worst fate.

Miss Margaret Smiley, employee of The Gettysburg Times for many years, slipped and fell on Carlisle street, just before reaching The Times building and suffered a laceration to the back of her head. She was treated at the Warner hospital and then returned to her home on Baltimore street.

George Kadwili, foreman of The Times and New Company composing room, slipped and fell in front of his home on Buford avenue and suffered a cut on the back of his head. He applied home remedies.

The borough police car is in bad shape.

Town councilmen heard Monday evening that one door dropped off the car the other day — after threatening to do so for months. Then the door was re-hung and the car brought up to the point where it would pass state inspection. It passed.

Monday morning the emergency brake dropped off.

So councilmen were inclined to agree when L. D. Shealer, chairman of the property committee, summed up the situation by observing that "the car is in very bad shape."

Estimates on the cost of putting it in "good shape" range from $100 to $200, councilmen were told. Major item on the repair bill will be a new door and a new radiator.

Today's Talk

THOSE EARLY INTERESTS

The mind is never so plastic as in early youth, and especially in childhood. Then it is that speculation is alive and on fire. The mind then is susceptible to endless turns and endless roads of interest. A thousand twigs may be bent at this stage of life.

Those early interests are the most golden of anything that later appear. Nothing is so mysterious and miraculous as the unfolding of the thoughts of a new being suddenly given the world as a gift. How many times we in our mature mood look back to those early days, wondering why we were thwarted from so many interests, from so many pleasures, and from so many thrills.

Interests are what feed our initiative and which give to us our incentive to invent, speculate and dream. They are our inheritance. No one should interfere with them. We should not allow anyone to take from us that which creation alone presented to us. The power of choice is inherent. A student does not "skip" classes that are made interesting to him.

Many of us carry our earliest interests, or many of them, at least, with us throughout life. If we don't find ourselves beginning to fall apart when we most need to remain intact! I, in turn, am thrilled at the joy and enthusiasm of old men and women at baseball and football games. I can think of no more enlivening hobby than the adding to more interest as life goes on.

People with plenty of interests have no time in which to mope or complain, and such people never ripen into bores. Rather are they welcomed on every hand. Interests may not keep the hair from whitening, but they will keep the mind from rusting, and give greater cheer to the aging heart than anything that I know about!

So I would say to parents and school teachers: Let the interests of those under your charge "run wild" if need be. Give play and fun its full steam. Leave the brakes to those whose interests may occasionally need them. The seeds of genius grow and thrive in the field of interests.

Just Folks

Tired of grown-up murmurings
Against the rising cost of things?
Tired of having to agree
With a lot of grouchy wise men

Who know all that shouldn't be
And are eager to advise men.
Tired of folks with stuff to sell
You?

Are you tired of heads that shake
Or mistakes that mortals make?
Weary of the sad deploring
And predictions of disaster?

Are you sick of error-scoring
And the strife 'twixt man and master?
Of the six-year-old remind you
Of the joys you've left behind you!

Would you like again to see
Charmers wherever you may be;
Think that there is none to doubt you;
Gaze up the world in wonder

At the beauty all about you
And forget that humans blunder?
With a six-year-old go walking;
Let the child do all the talking!

LEE R. KROUT HONORED AT SCOUT DINNER

Following a

roast turkey banquet served by the women of the church, Robert J. Altoff, banquet chairman, presented Post Advisor Stanley R. Frock, who served as emcee for "This Is Your Life."

It was noted that the guest of honor was born on August 6, 1936, in Germany Township and was baptized by the Rev. Mr. Saundt at St. James Reformed Church, along the Harney Rd. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Krout, E. Lee is a 1954 graduate of Littlestown High School. In the absence of his shop teacher and first Explorer post advisor, George Dittlow, the assistant shop teacher who was also associate post advisor, Elmer W. Gall, offered congratulations.

A fellow Explorer and lifetime friend, Dexter Freeman, joined the group at this point in the life story.

His neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Glenwyn Drive, appeared to speak briefly and the last guest was Timothy Lee Krout, not quite two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Krout. A series of slides was shown depicting Lee's activities in the Army and in Scouting. The guest of honor was presented with a plaque inscribed with "This Is Your Life Lee R. Krout for your outstanding work in Scouting, 1948-1965," and a field uniform from the post.

Prior to the meal there was a welcome by Chairman Altoff and the invocation by the associate advisor. BOY, RESCUER HOSPITALIZED AFTER ICY DIP

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP)—A little boy and the man who rescued him after falling through the ice of a swollen canal were reported in satisfactory condition today at a hospital.

A city patrolman who figured in the rescue of both man and boy was promoted to corporal for his part in the drama enacted Wednesday.

Police said Bobby Karichner, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Karichner, was playing with his scooter at the edge of his street adjacent to the old Pennsylvania Canal.

Bobby scooted out onto the ice and it broke with him. Terry Corter, 22, driving to his home in suburban Castanea from work, passed the spot at that precise moment.

He stopped and went to the boy's rescue. The ice broke under Corter, but he had hoisted Bobby onto his shoulders.

Corter was flailing about in the crumbling ice and six-foot-deep water when neighbors called police.

Patrolman J. A. Koegler and Cpl. Melvin Leathers arrived in a police cruiser within minutes and pulled both man and boy to safety.

Corter had inhaled so much water he appeared in serious condition. He was given artificial respiration on the bottom of the car enroute to the hospital and was breathing heavily when they arrived.

Mayor Douglas A. Peddie announced the promotion of Koegler to corporal.

LaSalle Clobbers Bullets 91-68 After Fast Start; Lafayette Here Saturday

Holding the Gettysburg College basketball team to but two points during the first seven minutes of the ball game, the LaSalle Explorers went on to capture a convincing 91-68 decision Wednesday evening in the Penn Palestra.

The Bullets got off to one of their worst starts of the season. After George Paull opened the game with a lay-up for the Explorers, Chuck Richardson, returning to the lineup for the first time in two weeks, hit from the left of the key at the 18:52 mark. LaSalle then went on to score 16 straight points before the Bullets' Bob Morris connected on a foul shot at 12:58. LaSalle led at that point 18-3. Gettysburg's second goal didn't come until 10:26 when Dave Yates swished a shot from the top of the key.

LaSalle landed 47 per cent of its shots during the first half while the Bullets connected on a disappointing 23 per cent. The Explorers carried off a 47-22 lead by intermission.

SHOW IMPROVEMENT

The Bullets turned in a better job throughout the second half but the damage had been done. Despite the improved performance in the second 20 minutes, Gettysburg's scoring still came in spurts. The shooting was not consistent.

Yates came off the bench to lead the Bullet scoring parade, hitting for 16 tallies on eight of 14 field shots. Ray Faczan and George Strouse followed with 11 and 10 points, respectively. Faczan was Gettysburg's top rebounder with 13 followed by Chris Sims' nine and Roger Ecker's eight. George Paull and George Sutor paced LaSalle with 20 and 19 points while Sutor was the game's leading rebounder with 18.

As a team, Gettysburg landed 25 of its 73 field shots and connected on 18 of 27 tosses from the foul line. LaSalle was 38 for 90 from the field and 15 for 24 in charity tosses. LaSalle won the rebounding honors 63-55.

Coach Bob Hulton's cagers, 7-7 on the season, will return home Saturday night to entertain a strong Lafayette team. The Gettysburg Freshmen return to action by meeting Bullis Prep in the 6:45 preliminary contest.

ESTES 18TH TO TOP 2,000

NEW YORK (AP) —Wayne Estes, the Utah State star whose tragic death last Monday night stunned the college basketball world, was the 18th player to break the 2,000-point barrier in three varsity years.

This was pin-pointed today in the weekly major college statistics compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau. Estes' career total was 2,001, a mark he reached with 48 points against Denver shortly before he was electrocuted when he came in contact with a high-tension wire.

The 48 points gave Estes a final season total of 641 points on 250 field goals and 141 free throws in 19 games. This is an average of 33.7, up from his 32.7 the previous week, and kept him in second place behind Rick Barry of Miami, Fla.

Barry, who has been No. 1 all season, lost a point from his 38.2 average the previous week, but continued to lead with a 37.1 on 742 points in 20 games. Bill Bradley of Princeton retained third place at 31.4 on 534 points in 17 games.

TEAMS AWAIT OFFICIAL RAP FOR BRAWLING

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens, shackled by their worst slump in 14 years, gloomily awaited disciplinary action today by National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell following Wednesday night's 6-2 loss to Toronto. The Maple Leafs, also in line for fines for their part in a second-period brawl, could afford to be more cheerful about them. They won the game.

The loss, Montreal's fifth in a row, dropped the Canadiens into a second-place tie with the Maple Leafs, four points back of Chicago, which whipped Detroit 5-2.

DOUBLE GOALS

Two goals by Ron Ellis, both on feeds from Frank Mahovlich, broke the game open early in the second period. The rookie's 15th and 16th goals came just 26 seconds apart and the brawl broke out on the very next rush into Canadian ice.

It started with a delayed penalty called on Montreal's John Ferguson for hooking Mahovlich. When Mahovlich took the Canadiens' Terry Harper into the boards, Ted Harris of Montreal squared off with the Toronto player.

Soon, fights and wrestling matches broke out all around the Montreal nets with players pouring off both benches to join the action. NHL rules call for automatic $25 fines for any player leaving the bench to join in a fight and when referee Bill Friday and linesmen John D'Amico and Matt Pavelich got things settled down, there were 14 Canadiens and 10 Leafs on the ice.

BAVARO SETS NEW MARK AS BULLETS WIN

Joe Bavaro, 157-pound wrestling ace for Ray Reider's Gettysburg College grapplers, set a new school record when he pinned his 10th straight opponent in paces of 10 seconds on an easy 27-2 win over Western Maryland, Wednesday evening in the physical education building.

Bavaro smashed the old mark of nine set five years ago by heavyweight Mike Pacilio who turned the trick during the 1959-60 season. Bavaro's victim was Jim Hudding. The Island Park, N. Y., native scored three quick points in the first period and in 35 seconds of the second period reversed his opponent and sent him to the mats for the record.

The victory was also Bavaro's 16th straight. He needs seven more to top Pacilio's consecutive win streak of 22 also set during the same year.

TERRORS GET DRAW

Dick Hughey added to Gettysburg's points by pinning Paul Lewis in 1:56 of the first period. The only two points gained by the Marylanders were George Schwebler's 3-3 draw with Gettysburg's 167-pounder Ed Mason. The Bullets copped all of the remaining bouts.

Gettysburg, 7-4 on the season, will entertain Lafayette Saturday afternoon on the home mats in a 2:30 o'clock bout.

SPECIAL AMBASSADORS

The Yale man was Scranton. The Princeton man was All-America football star Cosmo Iacavazzi.

The reason behind Scranton's quip was obvious to most sports fans, but he explained it anyway.

"Princeton beat Yale every year Cosmo was there," he said. Iacavazzi smiled.

The athletes came from across the state to accept an invitation from the governor to serve as special ambassadors in promoting the state.

BIG NAMES THERE

Middleweight boxing champ Joey Giardello was there. All-America guard Glenn Ressler of Penn State was there. And so was British track star Mary Rand, world record holder in the women's short jump.

Almost all sports were represented — rowing, bowling, auto racing, track, sailing, harness racing, golf, tennis, basketball and swimming.

Mrs. Rand, a three-medal winner in the 1964 Olympics, was made an honorary ambassador for Pennsylvania by an appeal by Scranton to "tell the world about us."

A ROUSING CHEER

Setting her world record of 22 feet, 2½ inches in the 1964 Olympics, Mrs. Rand is in America to compete in indoor games at Philadelphia and New York during the next two weeks. She also placed second in the Olympic pentathlon.

"We welcome you," Scranton said after Mrs. Rand was introduced by Jack Kelly, national treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Each of the Pennsylvania athletes was presented with a special plaque making them members of the Committee of 100,000.

AFL Agrees On Premature Pro Signings

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Football League has followed the rival National League by banning premature signings, but neither pro league has agreed to two other proposals aimed at protecting the nation's colleges in the multimillion-dollar war over top player talent.

Joe Foss, commissioner of the AFL, issued his statement on premature signings Wednesday in a document that almost paralleled one issued by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle last month.

Both leagues are now on record as prohibiting the signing of college football seniors until the teams have completed their seasons, including bowl games.

That, however with a few small exceptions, is as far as the pro leagues have gone in responding to three requests made by the National Collegiate Athletic Association after it was revealed that four Oklahoma players had signed pro contracts before the Gator Bowl game.

The NCAA, at the time, also requested that the pro leagues hold their drafts after the bowl games and discontinue their practice of signing redshirts — players who remain eligible for college competition after their class has graduated.

The AFL, however, took a further step toward trying to reach settlement with the NCAA by stating that it would be league policy initially to seek assistance of the athletic director or the head coach at the college where a club desires to contact a player about signing a pro contract.

JESSE OWENS TO AID METS

NEW YORK (AP) — Jesse Owens won four Olympic gold medals, made Hitler look like a bum and beat horses in exhibition races. Now, at 51, comes his toughest test — teaching the New York Mets to run fast.

The Mets have sprinted home 10th, 10th and 10th in the first three years of their existence. Not only do they lack early foot but they die in the stretch. They're not so hot down the back side either. Since the 1964 season ended they have added dash man Yogi Berra.

George Weiss, the Mets' president, announced Wednesday that Owens was joining the club as a special running instructor for spring training. He plans calisthenics and sprints and hopes to have them doing push-ups out of last place.

"I don't expect to find any Bob Hayes among the Mets," said Owens at a news conference. "But I do think I can help the boys discover some of the technique of running. A half step can mean the difference between a hit and an out."

Owens lives in Chicago where he is very active in boys club work and with the Illinois Youth Commission.

Cheyney State In 17th Straight Win

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) —Tom Washington and Dave Kennard led Cheyney State to its 17th straight victory Wednesday night, a 77-52 romp over Millersville State.

Cheyney's high-scoring Hal Booker had only 7 points, but Washington scored 28 and Kennard added 18. Roger Rasten was high man for Millersville with 20.

Cheyney's State College Conference record is now 10-0. Millersville is 3-7 in the conference and 6-9 overall.

LOCAL YOUTH GETS VARSITY CAGE BERTH

Edward Russell "Ted" McPherson, son of Atty. and Mrs. Donald P. McPherson, of Carlisle St. and Washington, D. C., surprised veteran basketball fans in

"TED" McPHERSON

Williamstown, Mass., this year when he earned a regular berth on the varsity cage team at Williams College.

McPherson, a graduate of Deerfield Academy, Deerfield, Mass., only a sophomore, played sixth man last season for a highly successful Ephlet quintet that sent seven men to the varsity for the 1964-65 season.

The 6'2" 175-pound McPherson stepped over several veterans and men who had been playing in front of him to take over the regular position. In eleven games he has scored 42 points, to establish a 3.8 scoring average.

Also a baseball player, McPherson started for the freshman team last spring, and struck the clutch ninth-inning triple against Amherst that gave the squad an undefeated season. He lettered twice in football and baseball at Deerfield, where he captained the basketball team and won three letters in that sport. He is the president of Williams' class of 1967.

Wall, Ford Lead U. S. Delegation

PANAMA (AP) — Defending over-all champion Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Doug Ford of Tuckahoe, N.Y., led a strong U.S. delegation into today's first round of the Panama Open, first tournament on the annual Caribbean pro golf tour.

Wall captured three tournaments and the Seagram Caribbean trophy on the tour last year. The Panama Open was not played a year ago because of anti-United States demonstrations in the Canal Zone.

Included in the field of 98 professionals and 69 amateurs are players from Canada, France, Spain and the best of the Latin-American players.

Richardson Is Disqualified Before Fight

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Willie Richardson raced across the ring Wednesday night at Oakland Auditorium and kicked California state heavyweight champion Roger Rischer in the groin before their scheduled 12-round fight for the title.

The 192-pound Richardson was disqualified by referee Vern Bybee, then suspended indefinitely by the State Athletic Commission.

Rischer, 198, of Oakland, was standing in the middle of the ring with Bybee waiting for the referee's instructions. Richardson then rushed at Rischer and kicked him a number of times.

"THOUGHT IT WAS GAG"

Rischer said he didn't move when he saw Richardson charging because, "I thought it was a gag."

The incident almost turned into a full-scale brawl after Rischer was ordered out of the ring.

Richardson, of nearby San Jose, had been seated by handlers in his corner, but he jumped through the ropes and began throwing punches at Rischer.

The $4,603 gross gate receipts will be refunded to the approximately 2,000 fans on hand, promoter Don Chargin announced. Last Nov. 2 in San Jose, Rischer knocked Richardson down twice in the 11th round was awarded a knockout victory by referee Frank Carter, allowable under California rules.

KNICKS KNOCK ROYALS TO WIN

DETROIT (AP) — For the first time since Nov. 16, 1963, the New York Knickerbockers came out on top of the Cincinnati Royals.

In the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at Detroit's Cobo Hall Wednesday night, the Knicks went into overtime and defeated Cincinnati 115-112.

In the second game, Boston's John Havlicek collected 33 points as the Celtics beat the Detroit Pistons 117-106.

In the only other NBA game played the Philadelphia 76ers beat the Lakers 110-99 at Los Angeles.

The New York-Cincinnati game was tied at 104-104 at the end of regulation time. In the overtime, Willis Reed and John Green put New York into a four-point lead with two quick field goals. But, with just over a minute remaining, Oscar Robertson evened the score with a basket and two free throws.

A basket by Green with 43 seconds to go and a free throw by Tom Gola sewed up the game for the Knicks.

200 Sports Enthusiasts Enjoy Dinner-Meeting At Elks With Orioles' Stars

Approximately 200 sports enthusiasts attended the dinner and program presented by the Baltimore Orioles Caravan Wednesday evening at the Elks home and were well rewarded with one of the finest sports shows ever presented here.

Eleven members of the Orioles family were included in the party and they made a big hit with the crowd.

Frank Messer, starting his second season as a TV sportscaster for Baltimore, served as master of ceremonies.

Following a roast beef dinner, the guests assembled on the stage and were then subjected to a barrage of baseball questions from the audience which were handled with authority as well as with plenty of humor.

ORIOLE PANEL

Serving on the panel were Lee MacPhail, president and general manager of the Orioles; Jack Dunn, assistant general manager; Bill Hunter, third base coach; John Orsino, catcher; Jerry Adair, second baseman, who set a new league record last year by being charged with only five errors; Dave McNally, young left handed pitcher; Dick Hall, right handed relief hurler; Bill Roberts, ticket manager; Jerry Sachs, director of public relations, and Phil Izzo, assistant public relations director.

Several interesting items were revealed in the course of the evening with MacPhail pointing out that the Orioles depend very much on their patronage from Pennsylvania, adding that surveys have shown almost half their attendances on Sundays were made up of fans coming from this state. He said that at this time no trades are in the offing.

INTRODUCE PLANK

Many local fans recalled that Hall, a former star at Swarthmore College, played in his early amateur career in York County.

Near the close of the program a number of tickets to Oriole games as well as other prizes were awarded.

William Kuhn, house manager of the Elks, introduced Luther Plank, 92, Table Rock, as the oldest lodge member in attendance as well as the brother of Gettysburg's most illustrious baseball star, the late Eddie Plank.

Proceeds from the affair will go to the Elks' cerebral palsy fund of which Glenn Weishaar is the local chairman.

Waldorf Resigns As Terror Coach

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Bob Waldorf has resigned as athletic director and head football coach at Western Maryland College, Dr. Lowell S. Ensor, college president, has announced.

Waldorf, who has been head coach since 1967, will finish the college year at Western Maryland. After that, "I am hopeful of locating in the Baltimore area," he said.

Dr. Ensor said Richard A. Clower, basketball coach, will succeed Waldorf as athletic director and Ronald Jones, Waldorf's assistant since 1962, will take over as head football coach.

DOERSOM AIRPORT

Enemy Toll Booths Finance Offensive For Viet Cong

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Viet Cong troops, virtually unhindered by South Vietnamese government operations, have placed a stranglehold on the only overland route from Saigon to the border of Communist North Viet Nam.

There is evidence that corrupt local officials, acting in collusion with large and aggressive Communist forces, may have made the situation even worse.

Viet Cong toll booths on arterial Route 1, only 50 miles east of Saigon, have been operating daily and freely since November, apparently with no fear of major government interference.

FINANCE OFFENSIVE

These toll booths are believed to have financed the Communist offensive at Binh Gia in December. That operation cost government forces 500 casualties, including a score of Americans, and netted the Viet Cong quantities of arms and equipment.

The locations of the main toll booths in jungled Long Khanh Province are well known. Four toll and check points operate daily between road markers 1774 and 1780 — 56 air miles east of Saigon. A fairly wide trail leads four miles south from the main road at this point to a Viet Cong hamlet called Tra Cut, center of enemy road operations in the area.

CONG REST CAMPS

An area just south of Tra Cut is a key Viet Cong rest and training camp. The force that fought the Binh Gia campaign is believed to be refitting there now.

Vietnamese travelers who managed to get through the area reported that more than 20 vehicles, including trucks, have been hijacked and taken to Tra Cut.

There old tires are cut up into sandals for the guerrillas — new tires are too thick. Engines are converted for use in jungle arms factories and to generate electric power. Instruments taken from cars are used for making time bombs.

ALL TRAFFIC STOPPED

Nearly all cars, buses and trucks are stopped at the toll points and charged $2 to $10, depending on the weight of the vehicle, its cargo and so on.

MARTIAL LAW IS ASKED FOR SELMA, ALA.

By REX THOMAS

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Negroes sought protection of U.S. troops in their civil rights struggle today in the wake of a long forced march by students who had angered Sheriff James G. Clark.

Still more right-to-vote demonstrations were promised today and some of the students said they would lie down on the sidewalk if Clark attempted to drive them away again.

Hundreds of aroused parents waiting to hear a renewed appeal for nonviolence from Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. voted Wednesday night to ask President Johnson to put Selma under martial law.

"NO VIOLENCE"

King, returning to the city several hours after the sheriff had compelled 160 teen-age demonstrators to walk and run three miles into the countryside, warned his followers once more that they "must not return violence for violence."

The 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner told a cheering throng of students, including many who made the long march, that the problem of "brutality, meanness and terror" in Selma will remain unsolved until the federal government "is willing to do something" about it.

But he admonished young Negroes that they will gain nothing by yielding to any temptation to resort to violence themselves.

A short time later, at another church nearby, King warned an overflow crowd of adult Negroes that "violence creates more social problems than it solves."

King related in detail his conference with Johnson and other high government officials in Washington Tuesday and said the President had promised to seek new federal voter legislation.

The integration leader reminded the parents that they will have another chance to register as voters Monday.

UNION RIVALS CLAIM VICTORY IN STEEL VOTE

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

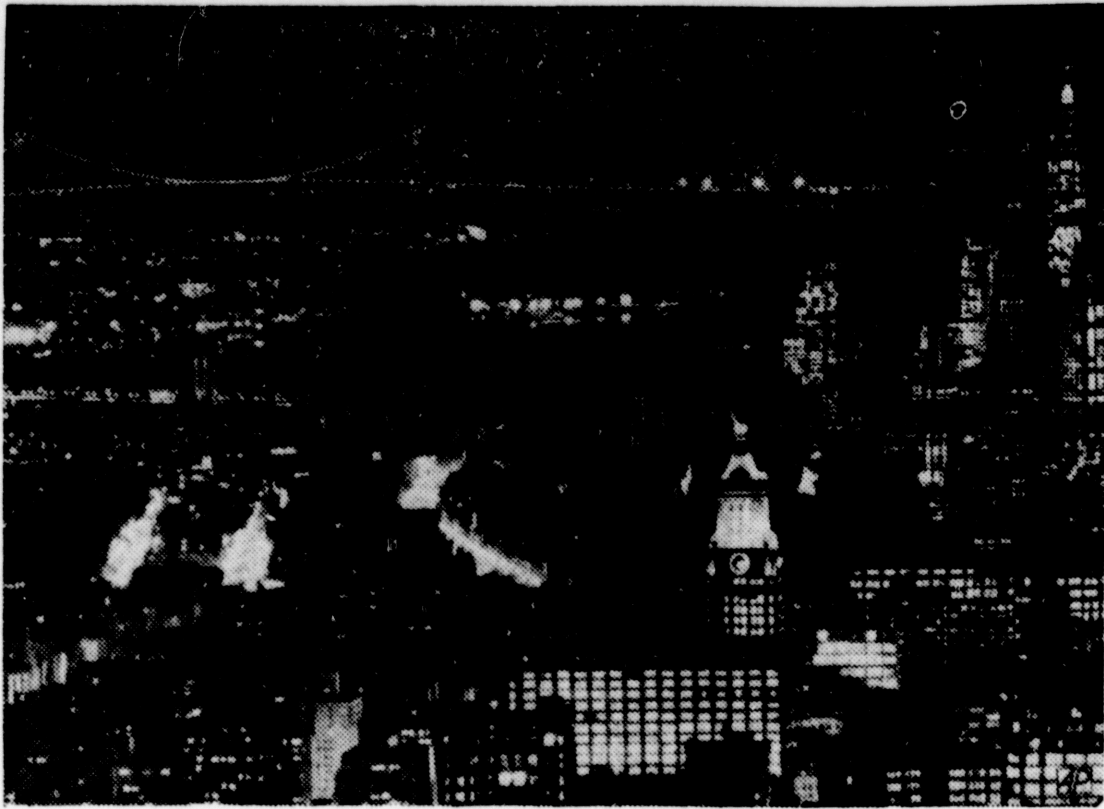

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Challenger I. W. Abel clung to a slim lead today as the United Steelworkers Union continued the long count in their hard-fought election. The key to victory appeared to lie in the big locals, as yet largely unreported.

In the background, steelmakers kept a watchful eye on the returns still hoping for a decisive result in the close struggle between Abel, the big union's secretary-treasurer, and the man on whose right hand he served for 12 years, President David J. McDonald.

EYE BARGAINING

Steelmakers are eager to get on with bargaining for a new year during the bitter campaign. A close election could wind up in a long court fight. The union can strike May 1.

There also was the possibility that an Abel victory would make McDonald a lame-duck.

WANTS BETTER SHOWS MOVED UP IN SCHEDULE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This is a frantic and critical time when a comparative handful of men — network executives and advertising agency men — are deciding what television programs we will watch next season.

Along with these major moves, it would be pleasant if the planners considered some small changes which would enhance the pleasure of viewers.

For instance, this year most programs with dramatic meat on their bones are relegated to late evening hours on the schedules. Eleven p.m. may not be a late bedtime for a TV or advertising executive, but it is to early risers. One most popular complaint received in letters to this column is that "all the programs I like best to watch come on at 10 p.m., and that's just too late for me."

DON'T BREAK COMMERCIALS

Certainly "The Danny Kaye Show" would be a welcome addition to the early evening because Danny is a great entertainer of children. "The Defenders" had larger audiences when it was in an earlier time period and there seems no real reason why the interesting and action-packed "Fugitive" could not be seen earlier.

It would be nice if stern restraints were placed upon enthusiastic news departments so that they would interrupt programs with "news bulletins" only if they really are important. And it would be interesting to see a news bulletin that was adjudged important enough to break into a commercial instead of the critical moment of a drama.

Recommended tonight: "The Defenders," CBS, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time) — Brandon de Wilde co-stars as a conscientious objector who wants to be excluded from the military draft.

Wants Districts To Be Compact

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Judiciary subcommittee has approved a bill to require that congressional districts be compact and nearly equal in population.

The bill is designed to go into effect for the 1966 congressional election and would use the 1960 census to determine a district's population. The measure says no district in a state can have a population that varies more than 12.5 per cent from the state's average.

The Supreme Court ruled last year that both houses of state legislatures must be based on population.

Says Red Payment Victory For U.N.

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, told a bankers' association meeting Wednesday in New York that the point of trying to get the Soviet Union to make a voluntary contribution toward peacekeeping costs is not to score a victory.

"We are simply trying to score a success for the United Nations," he said of the stalemate situation.

Interstate Roads Half Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Completion of the interstate highway system is nearing the halfway point with 19,019 of its 41,000 miles finished.

An announcement Wednesday by the Commerce Department said some 1,519 miles were opened during the last three months of 1964. Another 5,200 miles are under construction. Last year 2,505 miles were completed.

Student Returns From Red Prison

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Peter Landerman, 24, the student released last week from 16 months in a Soviet prison for an auto accident, had a tearful family reunion in Los Angeles Wednesday.

The only visible change noted by his parents and sister — who hadn't seen him in two years — was that Landerman had grown a thin mustache while in jail.

HERSHEY ENDS LONG DROUGHT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now that Providence's Willie Marshall has achieved his second milestone of the season, perhaps the American Hockey League Reds can get back to the business of winning games.

Marshall scored his 1,000th AHL point Wednesday night but Murray Hall's hat trick spoiled the celebration and sparked Pittsburgh to a 5-2 victory over Providence. Marshall scored his 400th AHL goal Sunday night but the best the Reds could manage was a 3-3 tie with Baltimore.

Marshall, whose AHL career started with Pittsburgh in 1952, scored his 401st goal against the Hornets Wednesday night. He has had 599 assists for his 1,000 points.

Elsewhere, Hershey snapped a scoreless string of 136 minutes with a second period goal and then added two more inside of two minutes in the third session, defeating Cleveland 3-1.

Chuck Hamilton's second period goal broke the Bears' drought and then Roger DeJordy and Bruce Cline scored in the third period. Fred Glover hit for Cleveland.

To Make Freezers Pay Off, Keep Full, Says Adams County's Home Economist

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

To make your freezer pay off, you've got to keep it full. Cooked main dishes—meat loaves, casseroles and stews—can go into some of that vacant space. Make enough for several meals, then freeze the extra. It will save you time later—2 or 3 months from now—when you may be particularly busy or have unexpected guests.

MRS. TUNISON

Food specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture say you prepare and cook the dish as usual, leaving ingredients such as vegetables and macaroni a little underdone to allow for reheating later.

This recipe for cheese meat loaf is a good one to try as a starter.

CHEESE MEAT LOAF
2½ pounds ground beef

1 cup chopped cheese
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
¾ cup chopped onion
2½ cups dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoon salt
½ small bay leaf, crushed
¼ teaspoon thyme
Dash of garlic
3 eggs beaten
2½ cups tomato purée

Mix beef, cheese, green pepper, onion, crumbs, and seasoning thoroughly. Combine eggs and tomatoes and blend into meat mixture.

BAKE ONE HOUR
Bake at 350 degrees F. for about 1 hour in metal freezer container or loaf pan.

Cool rapidly by putting pan in ice or cold water, cover with lid or moisture resistant packaging material. Seal, then freeze and store at zero or below.

To prepare for serving, cover frozen meat loaf with tomato sauce or gravy and reheat at 400 degrees F. for about 1 hour. The loaf can also be thawed in the refrigerator and served cold—or heat slices in a pan with gravy or sauce.

Serve salads often during cold weather. A green salad can offer contrast in flavor, color, and texture to other foods in family meals.

You can use almost any vegetable in salads. Carrots and rutabagas as a go-with for leafy greens will supply family members with essential nutrients to fight winter colds.

SALAD VEGETABLES
Cabbage, cauliflower florets, and Brussels sprouts are excellent salad vegetables that offer fair amounts of ascorbic acid (vitamin C). Each family member needs one serving of an ascorbic acid-rich food each day.

Grapefruit and orange sections combine well with greens to make delicious salads. For another tasty salad, try grapefruit and orange sections with other fruits.

Information on salads and salad dressings is given in the leaflet, "Salads." For a free copy of it, send a postcard with your name and address to the Agricultural Extension Office.

FEMININE LOOK
Spring styles feature the feminine look from head to toe.

Hats of sheer to mediumweight silks will be soft and smooth in texture. Some Bali-like straws and felts will hug the head. White and colorful feathers will be used in many hat styles, and some wider brims will be seen.

Dresses feature softer and higher neckline contours, smooth hiplines, and fullness below the hipline. More bias cut fabrics are used in bodices and skirts. Sleeve interest centers around dolman and bat-wing shaping.

Some coat-dress ensembles emphasize well-seaming, princess lines, and gentle trimmings while the tube dress is flounced at the hemline, and may have pleats or gathers at the waistline.

The coordinated blouse-suit features a neat tailored appearance with soft, high shaping. Other suits are double-breasted, round-collared, and have leather belts. Necklines on suit jackets will be open to expose neck scarves or softly tied bows on the blouse.

MITTANY LIONS ADD ANOTHER ROAD VICTORY

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Nittany Lions of Penn State can put in a strong claim as the best road team in college basketball this season.

They whipped Bucknell at Lewisburg, Pa., 79-61 Wednesday night for their seventh straight victory, a 14-3 record over-all and their eighth triumph in 11 road games.

Jim Reed's 26 points, including nine in a 13-point spree that broke a 23-23 tie, paced the Lions as they added the Bisons to their previous road victims, Kansas, Kansas State, Gettysburg, Temple, Houston, Detroit and West Virginia.

ST. JOE'S WINS
The third-ranked St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, won their 10th straight and upped their over-all record to 20-1 by crushing Albright 92-71 in the feature of a doubleheader at the Palestra.

A basket from 50 feet out by 5-foot-9 Curt Fromal at the halftime buzzer helped LaSalle wallop Gettysburg 91-68 in the Palestra opener.

Evansville, the No. 1 team in The AP small-college poll, kept its unbeaten streak going with a 103-73 thumping of St. Joseph's, Ind. It was the Aces' 19th straight this year and a winning streak of 25, counting six from last season.

MARQUETTE LOSES
NYU whipped Holy Cross 84-73 and St. Bonaventure, downed Iona 74-64 in a twinbill at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Jeff Hazard, with 20 points, and George Carter, with 18, sparked the Bonnies.

Ron Reed, 23, and Larry Sheffield, 18, combined for 41 points to lead Notre Dame to a 62-59 triumph over DePaul at South Bend.

Marquette lost its third straight since upsetting St. John's of New York, bowing to Memphis State at Milwaukee 82-70.

ELECTRICITY POWERS PROGRESS

FEB. 7-13, 1965

Let's take a look at what electricity does for America!

Today, more than 90 per cent of our machinery is powered by electrical energy. At the turn of the century, industrial plants were powered by steam and water wheels.

Electrical horsepower gives the average American factory worker today the equal of 456 husky electrical helpers, almost twice as many as only 10 years ago.

In today's home the housewife has more servants than ever before.

Did you know that there are 166 electrical servants available for use in the home? Thanks to the low cost of these electrical servants at a cost of only a few cents each day.

For example, one penny will supply 24 minutes worth of electricity for a dishwasher . . . a penny will run a steam iron for an hour and an electric mixer for four hours.

It costs just about two cents a day to run a television set. As a matter of fact, the housewife can run all of her basic electrical appliances—about 25—for less than 43 cents a day.

In our communities, electricity works round the clock to provide better things.

Educational television enables teachers to extend their reach and make more effective use of their time.

Computer centers that serve an entire community are not unusual. Centers are used by cities for billing municipal services, by department stores for inventory control, by schools for keeping records, by civic officials for community planning projects, and by local industries for everything from product design to payroll and shipping records.

The electrical industry takes pride in its role in America's growth and progress. It also recognizes the responsibility that it has—responsibility to continue to improve, refine, and discover new ways to use this tremendous form of energy for the benefit of America and the world. To this end, the electrical industry will continue to devote its time, money, and talent.

ADVERTISED FOR JOB ON BILLBOARD; NO SUCCESS

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
PHILADELPHIA (AP)

When Fred Pitkof decided to top all his other efforts to land a job he proclaimed his need and his qualifications in an expansive, and expensive, way: A $200-a-month billboard at a busy mid-city corner.

Large capitals on the sign spell out, "I want a job!" and alongside them Pitkof lists these qualifications — "law degree, three years stock broker, eight years administration, 35 years old, married." Across the bottom of the sign, in king-size letters and figures, are his name and a phone number.

This billing went up about two weeks ago. Wednesday, Pitkof said he was disappointed in the response — but not discouraged.

ABOUT 35 CALLS

He said he had received 35 to 40 telephone calls and had been interviewed a few times. He is still, however, an out-of-work securities salesman.

"So far," he said, "there has been nothing substantial or significant."

"It isn't as if I were asking for something unreasonable. I feel I am worth $150 a week, but I might take $125."

MYSTERY TO HIM

He might settle for that because he and his wife are expecting their first child in June. Pitkof says it's a mystery to him why he isn't snapped up right off.

Pitkof, who served in the Korean War, said he studied law at the City College of New York and New York University. During his law school years, he said, he worked for a linen supply company, in time becoming an assistant to the president. After that company merged with another, he said, he went to work for a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

"TRIED EVERYTHING"

Last summer, Pitkof said, he moved here as an employee of a bank that intended eventually to make him a branch manager.

"But I wasn't happy outside investment trusts," he said. "I felt I wasn't doing myself any good. So I left in December. Since then I've tried everything to get a job."

"TERRIFIC JOB" IS NEEDED ON SUSQUEHANNA

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Department of the Army official says the development of the water resources of the three-state Susquehanna River Basin requires "a terrific job of reconciliation."

Richard A. Hertzler, chief of civil functions for the department, told the Susquehanna River Basin Study Coordinating Committee Wednesday night the committee must "call them as you see them."

He said state and federal agencies and the states themselves would exert pressure upon the committee and advocate diverse points of view.

"Your job is to resolve all these points of view in the best interests of the United States," Hertzler said.

Representatives from Pennsylvania, New York, Maryland and seven federal agencies comprise the committee. It was formed two years ago to complete by mid-1969 a study of flood control, navigation, pollution control, water supply, power, recreation, wildlife and soil conservation.

RINGO MARRIES TEEN-AGE GIRL

LONDON (AP) — Ringo Starr, the Beatles' drummer, married 18-year-old Maureen Cox today. Ringo is 24.

A spokesman said the parents of both Ringo and his bride were present for the civil ceremony at the London's Caxton Hall registry office.

Ringo and Maureen were married at 8:15 a.m. After the ceremony they left London for a short honeymoon at an undisclosed place.

The spokesman said Ringo had to be back in London Monday for movie work.

Barry Digweed, superintendent registrar of Caxton Hall, performed the ceremony.

The Beatles' manager, Brian Epstein, was best man.

Also present at the ceremony — which took about five minutes — were two Beatles, John Lennon and George Harrison. Lennon was accompanied by his wife.

Ringo's wedding leaves two Beatles unmarried — Harrison and Paul McCartney.

U.S. Rescue Workers Pull Two Yank Soldiers From Hotel Blasted By Commies

By PETER ARNETT
QUI NHON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Sweating and crying American rescue workers pulled two American soldiers alive today from the rubble of a U.S. enlisted man's hotel destroyed by Viet Cong terrorists.

One of the young American survivors was dragged out of a tunnel dug through the debris after a Korean doctor amputated his leg to free him.

The doctor, a member of a Korean medical team stationed at Qui Nhon, crawled into the tunnel smashed into the rocks by U.S. Army engineers and rescue workers.

FAINT CRIES

Faint cries from the trapped man were heard at 2:30 a.m., about six hours after Viet Cong bombs crumpled the four-story concrete building. The soldier was in the rubble for 18 hours before he was pulled out.

By late today, the toll from the blast was:

One American killed in the hotel when a bomb went off in the hotel bar. Another died later in the hospital. Sixteen Americans were wounded but survived and got out. Four escaped injury, and got out. Twenty-two others, including two believed to be still alive, were buried under the mountain of debris.

BURY 12 SERVANTS

The blast also buried 12 Vietnamese house servants working in the hotel. The mangled leg of one could be seen protruding from the rubble.

A family of seven Vietnamese living in a nearby house were all killed.

All the Americans in the hotel were Army enlisted men serving with 140th Maintenance Detachment except for the American killed in the bar. He was a Special Forces man.

Soon after the first cries for help, the cries of three other men in the rubble were heard. One of them was pulled out, leaving two others trapped late today.

KILLS 2 ATTACKERS

One of the heroes of the bloody night killed two of the Viet Cong attackers and survived himself.

Spec. 5 Robert K. Marshall was on the second floor of the building when the attack began. Viet Cong squads poured machine-gun fire into the building.

Marshall rushed onto the balcony of the building with his carbine and emptied his magazine at two terrorists firing from a street across the way. After killing both, he rushed back into his room for more ammunition, but the explosion went off at that moment. Marshall was evacuated to Saigon.

Marshall saved himself by diving under his bed when the building collapsed.

BUILDS TUNNEL

Rescue workers at the scene were working to the point of exhaustion. One who played a key role in freeing the first trapped American was Spec. John Huske, a surgical rescue man from Ronan, Mont. He was one of the first men at the scene and was still there late this afternoon.

Huske built the tunnel to the trapped man, then stayed and comforted him. The tunnel was 2 feet wide and 10 feet long.

In the final moments of the rescue, Huske had to break the remaining part of the leg which the Korean surgeon could not saw off. Huske was in tears as he emerged, grimy and dusty, from the hole.

The Korean doctor administered morphine and another powerful anesthetic to the trapped man, but the soldier who had put a tourniquet around his leg before help came, was still conscious.

The leg was smashed and pierced by a heavy metal beam.

ECONOMY ENDS FOURTH YEAR IN ACTIVE MARKET

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. economy is closing out its fourth full year of expansion with a burst of activity and a handful of problems currently acute.

In the middle of February 1961 the economy, as measured by industrial production and similar indices, hit the bottom of the last recession. From then on the path has been upward, with only an occasional slowdown or a dip for reasons that proved temporary.

EXPANSION SIGNS

Industrial production and the other measures of prosperity are still going strong. They show every sign of further expansion.

—If the labor disputes now besetting such industries as shipping are resolved shortly.

—If the steel union strife is settled without deep scars, and the union and steel management can then reach agreement on a new contract in time to head off a threatened strike, and in time to cool off an overheated rush to build up steel inventories now at the expense of a slump in orders later in the year.

—If these and other labor settlements don't lead to wide advances in prices.

—If the U.S. balance of payments can be tamed, and the financial difficulties of Britain smoothed over without causing another international monetary crisis, or upsetting the money and credit apparatus at home.

—If the big boom in auto production and sales proves to be based on continuing consumer demand rather than on just the catching up after last fall's auto strike.

OPTIMISTIC SALES

The problems and uncertainties aside, the current statistics are mostly on the side of optimism.

The big spurt of industrial production in December apparently carried over into January, and in February is slowed only in those industries and sections hit by the Atlantic and Gulf coast shipping strike.

Retail sales are strong, with all signs that consumers are in a spending mood and have plenty of income and savings to back it.

On a seasonal basis employment in January was better than normal.

TOMMY LITZ

HERSHEY, Pa. — With the silver anniversary edition of Ice Capades, which plays Hershey Sports Arena for a limited, 10-day engagement February 17 through February 27, is a former top ranking amateur figure skater who gave up the chance of world and Olympic titles to become a touring professional.

He is Tommy Litz, handsome, 19-year-old former member of the Hershey Figure Skating Club who turned pro because he enjoys free-style skating before enthusiastic audiences, an opportunity that is extremely limited for amateurs. He also feels that he can improve his skating at a faster rate as a professional with the expert coaching of Ice Capades' choreographer and instructors.

This will be the second appearance on home ice this season for the talented skater who amassed a number of amateur titles before turning professional. He was enthusiastically received during the pre-Broadway showing of Ice Capades here last August. Before embarking on his skate-for-pay career he was coached by Felix Kasper, professional instructor at Hershey Sports Arena, who trained Tommy for the Olympic and world's championships.

PUNCTURED BY WIRE

Phillips' arms and chest were covered with tiny puncture wounds. The military policeman said the screen wire splinters were removed one by one.

Rigby was wounded southeast of Pleiku.

"We thought we were chasing a platoon," Rigby said. "It turned out to be a battalion. It was moving right around the sand dunes near the beach on the China Sea and through bits of jungle."

Caverns Provide For "Cave-Sitters"

STANTON, Mo. (AP) — You have all heard of baby sitters but now for the first time there are cave-sitters.

So parents can tour Meramec Caverns here without worrying what to do with their little children, the management provides them with girls who will sit with them.

The cave located on U.S. 66, started the cave-sitting service because so many motorists on the highway stopped at the cave and insisted on carrying their children with them. It made the parents and fellow tourists uncomfortable.

There is no charge for the cave-sitting service. It is "on the cave," says Director Lester B. Dill.

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — An old-fashioned touch was added to the wedding of Miss Bobbie Hannah Trigg at Wickland, her historic Bardstown home. WOUNDED GI'S SAY CONG KNOW HOW TO FIGHT

By JERRY CURRY
SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP) — The private from New York lay in a hospital bed and summed up the Communist attack on Pleiku: "God, it rained metal."

"I was asleep in my hooch (hut) when the mortar barrage started," said Pfc. David C. Crouse of Altamont, N.Y. "The guy in the bunk next to me didn't know what hit him."

Crouse was one of 16 wounded soldiers from South Viet Nam flown to this air base near Belleville Wednesday night. They'll continue their journey today, bound for military hospitals near their homes.

Another of the 16 was 1st Lt. Joe Rigby, 25, a Ranger-paratrooper from Lockney, Tex. He also was wounded when the Communists suddenly attacked the American base at Pleiku Sunday night.

"I saw the Viet Cong who shot me," said Rigby. "I was running and I saw him open up with an American-made 30-caliber machine gun. I felt the pain. It hit me right here."

Rigby pointed to his right thigh and charted the direction the slug took through his leg.

Phillips' arms and chest were covered with tiny puncture wounds. The military policeman said the screen wire splinters were removed one by one.

TEAGUE FIGHTS PLAN TO CLOSE VA HOSPITALS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Olin E. Teague of the House Veterans Affairs Committee said today he's taking a "show me" attitude on proposed administration economy closings of 11 veterans hospitals.

The Texas Democrat said his committee would start intensive hearings Feb. 18 on the controversial plan which caused a two-day tieup over an emergency appropriations bill in the House and Senate.

A Senate amendment would have blocked any closings until June 30 to give congress a chance to look into the matter.

But President Johnson balked and Wednesday a compromise deadline of May 1 was agreed on. Also involved is a similar proposal to close out a number of agricultural research stations and projects.

Teague said his committee would first ask the administration what its over-all plans are regarding hospitals.

"I understand that there is considerable money in a military bill for new military hospitals," Teague said.

OTHER PLACES

The government also has Public Health Service hospitals, merchant marine hospitals and other installations. He said he wanted to find out what the plans are regarding those.

One of the arguments in favor of closing the veterans hospitals is that those isolated in rural areas cannot attract and keep a competent staff of doctors.

"Yet we get letters from doctors in the same areas that say they can get all the staff they want."

Even if Congress disagrees with the shutdown plans in some instances, it is not clear what it can do about it.

Chairman George Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee told a reporter Wednesday "You can't forbid the closing of a facility. Get that out of your mind. It's impossible."

LBJ MANEUVER DELAYS CLOSE OF HOSPITALS

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has outmaneuvered Congress to turn back challenges to his conduct of foreign relations and his orders to close 11 veterans hospitals and 20 farm research stations.

By trading off some time, the President got voice-vote passage by the Senate Wednesday of a $1.6-billion supplemental money bill carrying watered down anti-Nasser and anti-closing riders. The measure, previously approved by the House, went to the White House.

The uproar caused by an original House vote to cut off the shipments of surplus foodstuffs to the United Arab Republic had died to the point where the matter wasn't even mentioned in the final debate. The flareup came after UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser said, in effect, the United States could take its aid and "go to hell."

Johnson got authority to make the decision on whether additional shipments shall go to Egypt.

Instead of cutting off funds for the closing of Veterans Administration hospitals and agricultural research stations as the Senate had voted to do, both houses agreed to a compromise under which none would be closed until after May 1.

ACCEPTED PROPOSAL

The Senate accepted this provision by a 62-9 vote, with nine Republicans voting against it.

Presumably this moratorium would give Congress time to look into the matter and recommend against some of the prospective shutdowns. But Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., told his colleagues that Congress was getting no guarantee that any of the facilities would be kept open.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., who piloted the compromise through the Senate, tried to soothe his colleagues with the prediction that there will be some changes in the closing orders. Sen. Wins on L. Prouty, R-Vt., predicted that all on the list would have shut up shop by July 1.

Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., said the Johnson administration has taken the position that "come hell or high water, they are going to close these hospitals."

The consensus among senators was that Dominick probably was right.

LBJ PRESSES UNIONS TO END DOCK STRIKE

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A special White House committee presses today for an end to the month-long strike that has tied up shipping on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts at an estimated $6-billion loss to the nation's economy.

President Johnson appointed the three-man committee Wednesday and ordered it to report to him by noon Friday. He said the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association was "totally unjustified" in continuing the strike in ports where settlement has been reached.

REFUSE TO WORK

Union President Thomas W. Gleason has held fast to the longshoremen's policy that non of the 60,000 men will return to work until agreement is reached at all ports.

"If we went back to work we would be sacrificing our union and we don't intend to do this," Gleason said.

The presidential committee composed of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., will hear from both sides in the still unsettled Miami, Fla., and Galveston, Tex., negotiations.

In Philadelphia Wednesday night Federal Mediator John R. Murray announced a settlement had been reached between two longshoremen's locals and the city's Marine Trade Association. Talks continue between the association and two other locals while a fifth local, the largest, delayed voting on a pact reached Sunday until all the smaller locals settle.

Workers Uncover Stagecoach Depot

SHELBYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Workmen went dutifully about their job of tearing down a 12-room house to make room for a used car lot.

Almost through their task, they uncovered the framework of a one-room log cabin. The Historical Society decided it once was a stagecoach depot and later a toll house.

The workers now may get the job of helping to preserve it.

Nigeria Separates Iron, Steel Plants

LOGAS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria plans to locate its iron and steel industry in separate cities in the northern and eastern regions.

Few details are available on the project which is part of this West African country's Six-Year Development Program.

Regional rivalries reportedly determined location of the plants at Idah in the north and in the sprawling market city of Onitsha in eastern Nigeria. Ore deposits are also being explored in the western region with a view to establishing a third mill in that area.

Paul Hoffman Ready To Begin New U.N. Career

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—At the age of 73, Paul G. Hoffman is ready to enter a new phase of his spectacular career, one that will put him in the driver's seat of a new-model U.N. development machine.

The 1964 General Assembly's failure to do normal business has delayed unveiling of the new model, the next one is certain to.

485 SURVEYS

Hoffman, a deceptively mild-mannered man who has pulled off some amazing financial feats, keeps busy as managing director of the U.N. Special Fund which has 485 preinvestment surveys going in 130 countries—and more coming up.

Despite his job of trying to raise the living standards of half the population of the world, Hoffman says he is not a do-gooder, the term some apply to welfare workers. He says what he is doing is just plain self-interest and good business for the world's major industrial countries.

Raising the living standards of the poor countries will furnish future markets to increase the number of jobs in the rich countries and keep their economies going, Hoffman says.

WORKED FOR TRUMAN

Hoffman was a giant in the automobile world as the head of Studebaker and later dispensed aid through the Ford Foundation. In two years as President Harry S. Truman's Marshall Plan director, he spent $12 billion to get Europe's wheels moving after World War II.

"My work with the Marshall Plan was in the national interest of the United States, economically and politically," he said. "There was a gloomy future for our own country unless Europe was restored."

MEANS MILLION JOBS

"The same situation exists today but there is a different kind of job to be done. It is not simply recovery."

"Lifting the living standards of only 25 per cent of the people of the world will put a million people to work in the United States alone."

"The problem in the poorer countries is not lack of resources. It is the lack of developing the resources—and not the least of these, their human resources."

Since 1959 the U. N. Special Fund has furnished what Hoffman calls "seed money" in preinvestment surveys to determine the feasibility of agricultural, industrial, educational and social welfare projects. He figures that $17 million in seed money has attracted $785 million in investment, a 46-1 ratio that he acknowledges will hardly be maintained.

$27,000 JOB

The U.N. Economic and Social Council last summer approved a merger between the Special Fund and the U.N. expanded program of technical assistance, making Hoffman administrator of the new machine.

All the new machine needs now is the General Assembly's certain approval.

Hoffman gave up a $96,000

UNION CLAIMS ILLEGAL FIRING IN COURT SUIT

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The railroad firemen's union announced today a multimillion dollar legal attack on the railroad industry. The union claimed thousands of men have been fired illegally.

An attorney for the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen said the first stage in the court action will probably be filed in U. S. District Court here today.

The union claims the railroads have been deliberately violating a federal arbitration ruling handed down in 1963 after one of the longest and bitterest labor-management disputes in the history of the industry.

12,000 MEN DROPPED
Some 12,000 firemen have been eliminated under the ruling.

The union claims many railroads have been shortchanging firemen on severance pay or failing to give them other jobs at the same pay as required by the arbitration ruling.

Union president H. E. Gilbert said in announcing the court action: "This is one of the few recourses we have to rectify a very bad situation. The carriers have forced us into going to court because they cannot lose. We cannot strike to require them to live up to the arbitration award and if we win the case in court they will just go back and do what they should have done in the first place."

PROHIBITS STRIKES

A federal court injunction issued last May has prohibited the union from striking.

The initial court action is against the Texas-Louisiana division of the Southern Railway Railroad, involving less than 100 discharged firemen.

But the union will seek to make the suit a class action applying nationally by naming the industry's chief negotiator, J. E. Wolfe, as a defendant.

Virtually all the nation's major railroads are a party to the arbitration ruling except the Southern Railway system.

Bloody Riots Are Raging In India Over Difference On New Official Language

MADRAS, India (AP) — Indian army units moved into Madras and eight outlying cities today to help police combat language rioting which has claimed 32 lives.

Bloody battles raged throughout Madras State as thousands of students opposing Hindi as India's official language attacked trains and fought police. The Madras government said "substantial and heavy" units of the army had been brought in.

In Madras City, the state capital on the shore of the Bay of Bengal, students and police battled on train platforms. Most trains were canceled or delayed for hours.

KICK CREWMAN

Students swarmed over the engine of the Indo-Ceylon Express and kicked crewmen onto the tracks.

Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari arrived in Madras to appeal to the students. Officials closed all colleges and high schools in the state until March 1.

The students have ignored all pleas, even from fanatic anti-Hindi groups and organizations struggling for an independent Tamil-speaking nation, and many have gone on looting sprees.

Twenty-three persons were killed by the police Wednesday. 10 of them in Kumarapalayam. Officers there opened fire on a crowd of 10,000 demonstrators.

burned to death by a frenzied mob in Tiruppur. At least 35 persons were injured.

Two others died previously in the rioting that began more than two weeks ago when the central government proclaimed Hindi as India's official language. Three persons committed suicide in protest.

At least 3,000 persons have been arrested.

Tamil is the common language in South India. South Indian students have refused to call off their opposition despite Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's promise that English will remain India's link language to protect the rights of those who don't speak Hindi, the language of about 40 per cent of India's 480 million.

If you're going to enter something like the Pure Oil Performance Trials, you might as well do it to win.

So we did. Class IV—won by Buick Special.

Down at Daytona Beach, we gave everyone another look at Buick's "Win Policy". A V-8 Buick Special won over stiff competition (sorry, boys!) in Class IV—in the 1965 Pure Oil Performance Trials. The winning Special was equipped with our 300 cubic inch Wildcat 310 V-8 and Super Turbine Transmission.

Remember that the drivers in the Performance Trials are skilled professionals, and the cars finely tuned standard production models. (If it can be said that the Special is "Standard" anything.) Also remember that the trials are an exhausting, carefully graded test of a car's all-around ability. In economy, acceleration and braking. Small wonder the Special came out on top. Handsomely.

(The specific detail? Our hero averaged 20.689 mpg in economy, to score second among 10 cars. It accomplished the acceleration test—from 25 to 70 mph—in 9.315 seconds, for a fifth. And took another second in braking: from 65 to 0 mph in 172.0 feet. The cumulative result: we won all the marbles in Class IV.)

Now then. If you're going to enter something—like a car—you might as well do it to win, too. Your Buick dealer can introduce you to the driver's seat of a Buick Special.

SUBWAY ADDS ROLLING RUG IN PARIS DEPOT

PARIS (AP) — A new moving sidewalk is bringing smiles to the Paris subway.

The 132-meter long "rolling carpet," as the French call it, is the culmination of a 30-year-old dream to ease the tiring distances between trains in the huge Chatelet station of central Paris.

Mechanically nothing more than an escalator without steps, lying flat the sidewalk moves at only 14 miles an hour, about the speed of a slow stroll. Its benefit is therefore not so much in its speed as in the comfort to weary commuters who still have to brave hundreds of dingy corridors and stairways.

CAUTIOUS APPROACH

In its first days of operation, the sidewalk was approached cautiously by most travelers.

"Grab the hand rail, madame," encourages an attendant. "Here take my arm," offers another man who learned how to ride it the day before.

A foot cautiously advances and whoops, off she goes with a little jerk of momentary imbalance.

"I'm from the country," beamed a gray-haired man in a beret. "I came in just to see this."

A fast walker can save 60 steps and 40 seconds by striding steadily on the carpet, but at least half the commuters stand still and ride the whole distance. That way they lose about a minute over their old walking time.

VIBRATION WARMS FEET

But there is much to be said for standing; the rolling vibration of the steel-backed rubber carpet massages and warms the feet.

The trouble with walking on the carpet is that it is only one meter wide and standers, many with huge purses and shopping bags, tend to block the way despite the attendant's calls on a loudspeaker to keep to the right. During the rush hour, in fact, all those people standing force a great number of travelers to pace off the distance the old way in aisles left for that purpose. Attendants say what every driver knows: It is very difficult to get Frenchmen to keep to the right. They say, too, that crowds of people watching others try it also hold up traffic.

Planned tentatively since 1930, the idea may someday be expanded to other large subway stations. In the meantime, attendants try to get maximum use out of the first one.

"Step right up," bawled one. "It's ladies free!"

PHILIPPINES IS BARGAIN MART

By JIM BECKER

MANILA (AP) — While hardly anyone was looking, the Philippines has become the bargain paradise of Asia.

Time was when you checked an arm and a leg at the door of any Manila store. But look at these prices, jotted down off the tags in a big department store:

Men's pajamas, 2.95; boy's tee-shirts, 69 cents; tooth paste, giant size, 99 cents; women's hand-made Thai cotton dresses, $35.

Now divide them all by four — the prices are in pesos and centavos, and the Philippine peso is worth about four to the U.S. dollar.

That's the key. For years, the peso was maintained at an unrealistic two-for-one rate.

This was an open invitation to smuggling, corruption, gouging and general stagnation of the economy.

While Japan, Hong Kong and Malaysia boomed, the Philippines was busy treading water to stay afloat.

But there is forward movement now.

BUILDING PROGRAM

An exciting construction program is underway on the outskirts of Manila. People on the streets are obviously dressed better than before. And farm income is well up, although a fair share may not be trickling down to the man in the rice field.

These signs of economic vigor are a good thing for the United States. In Asia, the Philippines is considered America's baby, and its success or failure is placed on Washington's doorstep. An outstanding Filipino industrialist said:

"We are moving forward, in spite of all the things our politicians do to us."

And there's the rub. Politics remains that full-time, 24-hour, year-round occupation of thousands of Filipinos.

Getting elected, and staying in office once elected, is the over-powering principle.

Nice for Friday supper: Fish fillets skillet-cooked in butter until golden brown and served with mashed potatoes and stewed tomatoes. Add a crisp green salad to the menu for texture contrast.

WOMAN LEAVES SUBURB; LIVES IN TREE HOUSE

DARBY, Mont. (AP) — Mrs. Jan Woodard is 21 and pretty.

She lives in a tree. She has taken to a treehouse along the Bitterroot River south of Darby because she's tired of crowded, big city life.

Mrs. Woodard, a 5-foot-2, 95-pounder, moved from Clover City, Calif., a Los Angeles suburb, along with her three-year-old daughter, Coquette, and Johnny, a 100-pound, seven-month-old Great Dane. Her parents still live in Clover City, where her father is a meteorologist and her mother sells real estate.

"I had driven through Montana several years ago and liked the country, plus I enjoy hunting and the people are friendly," she says.

MOVED TO TREE

The treehouse living was partly nature's doing. Too much rain. "After all," she declares, "I could hardly entertain company in a three-foot-high camper."

The 1 1/2 acres of land she bought had a treehouse built for children of the former owners. Mrs. Woodard made it snug with an old wood stove, tarps at the windows, tar paper on the roof and built herself a table and bench.

Star Scout Frederick A. Gantz, member of Troop 79 of St. James Lutheran Church, was pictured Sunday as he received the "God and Country" award in special ceremonies during the morning service at the Grace Lutheran Church at Two Taverns. On the left is Assistant Scoutmaster Richard Spangler and beside the honored Scout are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gantz, Gettysburg R. 1.

Her dishwasher comes from the river. Laundry facilities are available in Darby, a mile away. She gets drinking water from public campgrounds or from homes of new friends.

The tree house isn't a permanent fixture but it will do until she finishes building herself an A-frame home.

BUILDING OWN HOME

Eventually, she says, she'll probably have to get a job, but plans to finish her home first.

Mrs. Woodard says she's a licensed pilot and tells about a cross-country solo flight in which

Third Victim Of Gas Fumes Dies

WELLSBORO, Pa. (AP)—Gas fumes which spread through an apartment in the Potter County community of Galeton has claimed a third victim.

Mrs. Anna Cavanaugh, 25, died Wednesday in Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hospital here. James White, 22, of Rexville, N.Y., and his brother, Rodney, 24, of Genesee, Pa., were found dead Monday in Mrs. Cavanaugh's apartment as a result of carbon monoxide fumes escaping from an unlighted oven, authorities said.

Mrs. Cavanaugh's son, Peter, 7, was reported in critical condition at the hospital.

The brothers' deaths were ruled accidental.

she accidentally landed at an Air Force base. Her radio had gone dead and her fuel supply was low.

She was told later that she could have been shot.

Last summer, she and Coquette drove to Anchorage, Alaska, where she had considered home-staying. She said she found the cost of living too high. She stayed one month.

The transplanted California praises Montana. "If I told the California people some of the kind things the people here have done for me, they just wouldn't believe it."

NEW HAMLET WILL APPEAR IN LONDON

LONDON (AP) — A new and exceptionally young Hamlet will appear with Britain's Royal Shakespeare Company next year.

He is David Warner, the 22-year-old actor who played the wicked Mr. Bliffl in the movie "Tom Jones." He is currently playing the title role in Henry VI at Stratford-on-Avon.

Peter Hall, director of the Royal Shakespeare Company, regards Warner as "one of the greatest discoveries of recent years." He has already rewarded the young actor with the leads in Henry VI and Richard II, in which he gave memorable performances.

But his casting as Hamlet in the season starting next April is the greatest achievement yet in his brief but brilliant career.

Warner is a tall (6 feet, 3 inches), lean and extremely dedicated young man. Because of his thinness he looks even taller than he is. He will be the tallest actor to play Hamlet for many decades.

NOT YOUNGEST

He will not, however, be the youngest British actor to play the part. Richard Hampton achieved this distinction in 1959 when he was 21.

Warner left the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art four years ago after winning a gold medal. He went into local repertory theater and then joined the Stratford-on-Avon company on a three-year contract.

Warner is a withdrawn, rather ravaged young man who seems to find some difficulty in explaining his success.

"I feel I am more insecure than ever before," he says. "As I become more deeply involved in my acting, so my confidence is lessened by success."

At the age of 22 he will be challenging comparisons with some great English Hamlets. These include Sir John Gielgud (1944), Michael Redgrave (1958) and Paul Scofield (1963).

Shortcut Costly For Fire Company

LEITCHFIELD, Ky. (AP) — The Leitchfield Fire Department ran into costly delays in extinguishing a blaze in an auto.

Firemen figured they could drive out the Western Kentucky Parkway, stretch a hose over a fence and save the burning car, which was on a county road parallel to the turnpike.

They did. But, Chief Carl Colard said, it cost them $5.20 in tolls, going and coming.

LABOR ALMOST BEATEN IN ROW ON U. S. CRAFT

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP) — The Labor government has narrowly survived a Conservative challenge to its decision to step up purchase of U.S. planes for the Royal Air Force.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's government beat back a Conservative attempt to unseat it Tuesday night, but by only five votes, 306-301, as the Liberals added their nine votes to the Conservative cause.

In answer to opposition charges, Aviation Minister Roy Jenkins said, "Whether we like it or not, the all-British plane is out." He then included all advanced weapons systems as beyond British independent production.

END OF ROAD

"We are at the end of the road so far as the exclusive British manufacture of complicated weapons systems for an exclusive British market is concerned," Jenkins said.

Jenkins announced a program of collaboration with the United States and Britain's European allies.

He said the program has been developed with British government funds. Industry sources said some American money and know-how may be added.

Jenkins disclosed that together with the United States, Britain is studying joint development in antisubmarine warfare, tactical air defense missiles, army ordnance, and army communications.

GET FAST PLANES

As announced in Washington, the United States will supply Phantom F4 jet fighters and C130E transports.

Until the Phantoms arrive, in two or three years, the Royal Air Force will continue with British-made planes.

Britain and the United States also are to combine in development of an advanced lift-jet engine for vertical and short take-off aircraft.

In their censure motion, the Conservatives charged that Laborite policies were leading to almost total dependence on the United States and shattering confidence in the British aviation industry.

The 5-vote margin was Labor's smallest since it took control last October. Last Tuesday, they beat back a Conservative censure motion by 17 votes when the Liberals abstained.

FARM PRODUCTION UP

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The head of an 86-man Nationalist Chinese agricultural team working in South Viet Nam said that farm production had increased in that country despite the war.

But, Y. K. King said on a visit here today, that progress on extension of the irrigation system had been stalled by the terrorism of the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

DUBLIN (AP) — The Irish had another get-together Tuesday when Capt. Terence O'Neill, prime minister of Northern Ireland, came to Dublin to confer with Prime Minister Sean Lemass of the Irish Republic.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Paul F. Fay Jr., who resigned as undersecretary of the Navy last month to return to business, said Tuesday that the government is going to have to continue the draft and might as well admit it.

HAWBAKER VOTES ALONE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate passed a bill Tuesday removing any reference to a voter's color on voter registration forms and sent the legislation to the House for consideration.

The vote was 48-1 as the chamber passed its first bill of the 1965 session.

The lone negative vote was cast by Sen. D. Elmer Hawbaker, R-Franklin, who told the Senate he considered the color designation simply "a tool for the purpose of identification."

"I can see no purpose to eliminate this description any more than there is a need to eliminate the designation of the color of a voter's hair or the color of his eyes," he said.

Hawbaker said he was taking issue with the legislation "even though this may not be the politically wise thing to do" because he felt "we have the responsibility" to keep vote frauds to a minimum.

Is South Viet Nam To Be Slowdown Or Showdown?

By RICHARD F. NEWCOMB
AP Newsfeatures Writer

What is it to be in Viet Nam—slowdown or showdown?

Whichever side you take, it does appear that a major turning point is near in a power struggle that has been slowly escalating for four years. One side or the other, or both, seem due for a major move.

With Soviet Premier Alexei Kossygin in Hanoi, and McGeorge Bundy carrying President Johnson's word to Saigon, the time may be close at hand. RUN THE GAMUT

Predictions run the gamut. Will it be settlement by negotiation, or will it be big war, spreading across Laos and into Thailand?

It may be stalemate in South Viet Nam, but there are strange rumblings up in the hinterlands of Laos, where the Communists have been spilling down from North Viet Nam.

Washington says the Red buildup, that such talk is "a plain lie and a groundless allegation."

CHARGE AGGRESSION

In the next breath, Peking radio accuses the United States of aggression against the Pathet Lao, the Communist forces in northern Laos. Says the radio: "Aircraft of the United States and its satellites from air bases in Laos, South Viet Nam and Thailand, and from aircraft carriers of the U.S. Seventh Fleet have dropped daily without intermission thousands of tons of bombs and rockets on different liberated (Communist-conquered) areas under the control of Pathet Lao in upper, central and lower Laos, causing countless deaths and misfortune to the civilian population."

FLYING OVER LAOS

It was not until last November 18 that Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara disclosed that American planes had been flying over Laos since the previous May. He said the Laos government permits the flights "to gather information on infiltration of North Vietnam—these troops and material into Laos.

WAR IN VIET NAM-- Spreading Westward?

Something called Air America, a Delaware corporation, reportedly operates everything from light planes to four-engine planes out of Bangkok, with mysterious bases elsewhere up-country.

MORE RED PRESSURE

Bangkok reports an increase of Communist pressure by Pathet Lao forces in Phong Saly and Sam Neua provinces of Laos. A radio station calling itself the Voice of the People of Thailand broadcasts from there in the Thai language, stirring up trouble in northeastern Thailand. Caches of small arms and clearings in the jungle have been found on the Thai side of the Mekong River.

The United States reports intensified Communist attacks in Sam Neua province of Laos, and that the village of Muong Huoa was on the verge of falling to the Pathet Lao. When nine T28 planes — described as half the Royal Lao Air Force — were destroyed by fire January 24 at Vientiane, the United States quickly replaced them.

7 MOBILE UNITS

The Thai government has at least seven Mobile Development Units operating up near the Laos border. Each of these, led by military officers in civilian clothes, has American heavy equipment and about 150 men, working on roads, bridges and airstrips. Other groups, including so-called Special Operation Centers, watch the Laos border and at all times are in communication with Bangkok. The Thai Air Force has transports, fighter-bombers, helicopters and T28s, and bases in the north-east.

Slowdown or showdown, the United States "presence" is not far from Laos and Thailand.

ARLIN ADAMS
GETS DEGREE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Arlin M. Adams, state secretary of public welfare, and Mrs. Eugenie Moore Anderson, former U.S. minister to Bulgaria, are among those who received honorary degrees today at Temple University's mid-year commencement exercises. Both got the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters. Mrs. Anderson also was the commencement speaker.

Honorary Doctor of Laws degrees were conferred on Harry A. Batten, board chairman of N. W. Ayer and Son, Philadelphia-based advertising and publishing company; Harold L. Ervin, president judge of the Pennsylvania Superior Court; and Henry J. Nave, executive vice president and director of the White Motor Co., Cleveland.

$104 Millions For Pa. From Liquor

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Liquor Control Board says the state treasury gained $104,092,148 last year from sales at state liquor stores.

Profits on sales at the 686 state stores totaled $46,984,148, while the five per cent sales tax netted $16,031,825 and the 15 per cent liquor tax accounted for $41,094,256.

The audited sales volume for the year totaled $331,272,003, compared to $315,295,373 in 1963, the board reported.

If you are browning chicken in oil without coating the chicken pieces, be sure to dry them thoroughly.

Adams, Ervin and Nave are Temple graduates.

Dr. Millard E. Gladfelter, Temple president, also conferred 787 degrees during the ceremonies.

NIXON GIVES MORE ADVICE TO JOHNSON

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says that President Johnson should follow up recent bombing raids into North Viet Nam with similar decisive action to prevent further infiltration of arms and men into South Viet Nam.

"The decisions Lyndon Johnson will make on Viet Nam in the next three weeks will be the most important of his four years in office," Nixon said Wednesday night at a Republican State Finance Committee dinner.

Though he conceded the risks involved in further bombing raids at military targets in North Viet Nam, Nixon said the risks involved in waiting are far greater.

"The choice today is not between this war and no war, but this war and another much bigger war," he said.

Commenting on domestic issues, Nixon said that for the good of the two-party system and for the future of the nation, Republicans must increase their strength in Congress and in state capitols in 1966.

"In 1966 we either go up—or we go out," he said.

Nixon praised the administration of Gov. Scranton, and called its record "one of the best recommendations we have for Republican leadership at the national level."

He added that state Republicans did a "creditable job" last November, "considering the circumstances which they faced in Pennsylvania." Specially honored at the dinner were four Republican congressmen from Southeastern Pennsylvania and Sen. Hugh Scott, all re-elected despite the landslide victory for Democratic President Johnson in Pennsylvania.

The four congressmen were Willard S. Curtin, Bucks and Lehigh Counties; Paul B. Dague, Chester and Lancaster Counties; Richard S. Schweiker, Montgomery County; and G. Robert Watkins, Delaware County.

Scott described the "loyal opposition" Republican minority as "louder and more determined than any previous minority." He said the Republicans will be a constructive opposition party, compared with what he called "the ornery, pig-headed, muddle-minded Democratic opposition" during Republican administrations.

Scranton said state Republicans are "ready to compile another fine record of accomplishment for Pennsylvania—so that next election people will know who to vote for to get things done."

PENNA. LIQUOR AGENT NABBED IN NEW JERSEY

PHILLIPSBURG, N.J. (AP)—Local police arrested a Pennsylvania liquor agent Wednesday night. The development wrote another page in a long-standing controversy over the activities of Commonwealth sales and liquor agents in New Jersey.

Stanley Segal, 31, of Philadelphia, an enforcement officer of the Pennsylvania State Liquor Control Board, was picked up outside Huff's Liquor Sotre.

He was arraigned on charges of loitering and carrying a concealed weapon—a .25-caliber automatic.

WAS ON DUTY

Police Lt. Willard Jones said Segal had the liquor store under observation to determine whether any Pennsylvania residents were making purchases to take back across the Delaware River into Easton, Pa.

Pennsylvanians, under law, cannot have in their possession any alcoholic beverages not bearing the state liquor tax stamp.

In Harrisburg, Pa., a liquor board spokesman confirmed that Segal was on duty at the time of his arrest.

HAD BEEN WARNED

Warren County Prosecutor Robert Frederick said the owner of the liquor store saw Segal in a parked car and called police.

He said the practice of the liquor agents is to radio to colleagues in Easton to stop Pennsylvanians who cross back after buying alcoholic beverages here.

Just a year ago today Frederick warned that Pennsylvania tax agents found "harassing" consumers here could be arrested.

WILL BE MORE

He said Wednesday night that Segal's arrest was the first since the controversy began.

"If there are any more violations there will be more arrests," Frederick said.

Segal waived a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Howard Swick and was released on $350 bail posted by a Pennsylvania deputy attorney general. No date was set for a further hearing.

Turkish Men Like To Wed Grecians

ISTANBUL (AP)—Greece and Turkey may be wrangling over Cyprus, but when it comes to love there's no problem.

It seems Turkish men prefer Greek girls.

The Turkish State Statistics Institute reported that of 172 Turks who married foreign women in Turkey last year, 57 chose Greeks.

The British gals were the next choice. Ten married Turks in 1963. This was followed by nine Italians, nine Cypriots, eight Austrians and eight Lebanese.

Whom do the Turkish girls prefer? American men. Of the 246 Turkish girls who married foreigners last year 70 married Americans.

8 IRON IS HIS CLUB

SANFORD, N.C. (AP)—Bill Faries, Sanford High School athletic coach, has a 15 handicap and has been playing golf less than two years. But he has made two aces. Each came on the 120-yard seventh hole of the Sanford County Club. The holes-in-one came exactly a month apart, April 23 and May 23. He used the same No. 8 iron each time.

Mrs. David Houck, Arendtsville, and Mrs. Charles Sterner, Gettysburg, neighborhood chairmen of the annual Girl Scout cookie sale, are shown conferring with John W. Kramer, York, general chairman of the Penn-Laurel Council program. The sale begins February 19 throughout the six-county area of the council.

Workers Strike At Space Center

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Members of a construction union have gone on strike at the Marshall Space Flight Center in protest of alleged substandard working conditions and wages of a Pensacola, Fla., construction firm.

The workers set up pickets Wednesday at gates to the center, headquarters of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and several hundred construction workers failed to show up for work.

The pickets are members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers Local 477 of Sheffield, Ala. The Pensacola firm involved is the Greenhut Construction Co.

Finds Way To Upset Automation

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A janitor has stumbled upon a drastic but effective answer to automation: Throw away the computer's punch cards and it is helpless.

A county janitor accidentally discarded boxes containing cards with the names and addresses of 70,000 present or former county employees, it was disclosed Wednesday.

It caused the county to miss the Jan. 31 deadline for mailing federal income-tax W-2 forms. The punch-card data was obtained from electronic tape, but it took so long the last batch of forms wasn't mailed until Tuesday.

State To Warn About Alcoholism

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Health Department is launching a program aimed at informing teen-agers about alcohol and alcoholism.

The department announced plans Tuesday for a pilot program of teachers' seminars on alcoholism in three areas of the state. The seminars will be held at Edinboro State College April 5, California State College April 6 and Kutztown State College April 7.

Hungry Students Set Pancake Record

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—When a pancakey in St. Petersburg hung out the "all you can eat" sign 13 students at Northeast High School went into training. They skipped lunch.

Then they visited the restaurant after school and ate a total of 350 pancakes for an average of just a 13th under 27 each. Fred Sacucci and Jay Boyle ate 30 each.

Don Tiesler only ate 20. He said he wasn't really hungry.

ISLAND RELIES ON OLD SCOW

TORONTO (AP)—Chuckie Joe, a battered old scow skippered by owner Ken Sinclair, is one of the last remnants of Toronto Island's once-thriving business life.

Chuckie Joe plows the water between the city and the island carrying essentials to the dwindling island population.

Sinclair's Island Freight Company is a haulage contractor, beer deliverer, house mover and sole source of oil delivery during winter.

Once a tool designer, Sinclair quit the drawing board in favor of the island's open air. Now he is philosophically awaiting the time when there will be no one left on the island to serve.

Metropolitan Toronto is gradually razing the homes of island residents in order to turn it into a park. In 1962, the first 638 leases were terminated and since then houses have been acquired in piece-meal fashion reducing the year-round population from 2,500 to 1,200.

Soon the island's three remaining businesses, a boat builder, a grocery and Island Freight, will have folded. The gruff owner of Island Freight will be the last to go. "After it's all gone," he says, "I'll still be here."

Toohy Is Elected In Stormy Session

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Edward F. Toohy was elected president of the Philadelphia AFL-CIO Council Wednesday night in a stormy meeting in which about one-third of the members walked out in protest.

The delegates who walked out were members of former CIO unions. They left when delegates voted to accept an executive board decision eliminating 60 extra votes for the clothing and textile representatives.

After they left, the remaining members elected Toohy by a 490-80 vote. Total possible vote was 903.

Speaking for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, Harry Goldsmith said the executive board decision eliminating the extra votes "disenfranchised" 9,000 of his organization's 20,000 members.

License Officer Collects Cash

OMAHA (AP)—Those who give Omaha Auto Bureau Chief Warren Fleming a "rubber check" finds he's got a fast answer.

Fleming hunts the offender down, pulls out pliers and screwdriver and says: "Cash or your plates." "It's pretty effective," he says of his method.

SEEK FUNDS TO AID RAILROAD

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A $4.7 million program to aid the financially-ailing commuter service of the Reading Railroad has been approved by representatives of the state, the city of Philadelphia, and the suburban counties of Montgomery, Bucks and Chester.

The local government units will contribute $1.8 million to the 18-month plan. They will seek an additional $2.9 million from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency through the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Compact.

The money will help pay for a series of tests with different fares, levels of service and operating efficiencies designed to reduce the losses from commuter services.

The Reading, claiming mounting losses from commuter service, has threatened from time to time to end that service.

Under the plan approved Wednesday, Philadelphia will contribute $1.5 million, Pennsylvania $166,500, Montgomery County $55,000, Bucks County $20,000 and Chester County, $8,500.

Women comprise 30 per cent of Finland's architects.

Why so many things besides medicine?

One customer laughingly tells us we stock more items than an old-fashioned general store. That's because our customers, thank goodness, are pretty healthy and don't need enough prescriptions to keep us busy. Prescriptions are really the heart of our business. Because of them, we're open for the greater part of the day. Despite the fact that many pharmacists sell everything from books to bobby pins, we're still professional men... always ready when medication is needed.

More Red Demonstrations Spread Against Yankees

MOSCOW (AP) — A Communist student attack on the U.S. Embassy was followed by a mass demonstration in Peking and smaller rallies in other foreign cities, all in opposition to American air strikes against North Viet Nam.

Nearly 1,000 screaming students attacked the U.S. Embassy in Moscow Tuesday, smashing windows and splattering walls with ink.

Angry American protests that Soviet police, summoned in advance, failed to provide the protection Soviet property is given in the United States, were filed in Moscow and Washington.

PEKING SHOW

The New China News Agency reported "hundreds of thousands" of demonstrators massed in Peking Tuesday. Another mass meeting, attended by Communist party chairman Mao Tse-tung and Premier Chou En-lai, was held today, the agency said.

In Rome, several score of leftist youths marched in front of the U.S. Embassy for about an hour in a blizzard.

Signs saying "Bombs on Viet Nam — When Is Our Turn?" and "Genocide — Yankee Sport" were painted in red on the walls of the University of Munich in Germany.

Two containers filled with tar were thrown at the embassy building in Montevideo, Uruguay. An anti-American sign bearing the initials of the Young Communist League appeared in downtown Montevideo.

The U.S. ambassador in Moscow, Foy D. Kohler, protested to the Foreign Ministry and demanded that the Russians pay for damages to the embassy building. The Soviets promised to do so.

In lieu of alimony, Miss Markham was given a settlement of $20,000 in cash and an $80,000 note to be paid on Melchior's death. She testified Melchior would go into a rage every time she tried to leave their Hollywood home and caused her so

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY
Service Academy Cheating Is News;
Elsewhere, Too Often, It's Routine

THE TALL HEADLINES about exams cheating in the Air Force Academy are, in a way, flattering to the armed services' academies.

In most other large and famous universities there is so much cheating, particularly at freshman and sophomore levels, that such incidents would not be news.

No college or university of comparable size anywhere does a better job in the areas of honesty and integrity according to a high moral code than do the officer education academies for the American Army, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard.

That is what makes cheating on one of their campuses such a startling news.

I am not a graduate nor have I ever been a student in one of the Armed Services' academies. As president of a civilian college, I have at times, orally and in writing, been critical of some of their curricular and educational practices. Nevertheless, for inculcating, by precept, example and practice, a sense of responsibility, supported by unwavering integrity and honesty, I am convinced those academies are excelled by none in America or elsewhere.

That they are able to maintain such standards in spite of doubled and tripled enrollments, as compared to their historic and traditional size, makes their achievements all the more remarkable.

Enrollment growths increase the pressures against personal responsibility and integrity by geometrical rather than by mere arithmetical progression.

MOST NEWS STORIES and editorial comments concerning the theft and selling of exam papers at the Air Force Academy immediately hark back to a more or less similar eruption at West Point in 1951, when 90 cadets were expelled.

Most of a top-flight football team was caught in the drag-net.

The total score at the Air Force Academy already appears to be somewhat larger, but not necessarily in terms of the comparative enrollment percentages. Once again, the number of football players involved are out of proportion to the ratio of the student body as a whole.

In the West Point incident, however, there was no prior theft of exam papers and their subsequent sale to academically uncertain and anxious customers.

Between impulsive cheating because of an unplanned, unexpected opportunity and the wanton theft of examination sheets combined with their sale and purchase for the purpose of cheating there is a difference—a considerable difference.

WITH HUMAN NATURE what it is, it should not be surprising to learn that an occasional incident, usually quite small and handled in a quiet manner, occurs at each of the academies about every 10 to 20 years. New generations of cadets and midshipmen hear of them but passage of time blurs the insufferable embarrassment discovery then brought to the offenders.

Moreover, it is when organizational effort and numbers are involved that the fanfares of possible congressional investigation focuses attention on a major breach of the stern code: "We will not lie, steal or cheat, or tolerate among us those who do."

IT IS A principle known by heart to every student in all those academies from first week that he lives on the campus. Moreover he knows it is not a mouthing of idle words.

Young men have been forced out of those academies for failing to report correctly to an official query as to the whereabouts of a roommate whom he knew to be on an unauthorized absence from his quarters and the campus.

Any cadet or midshipman who thinks he can beat that code and the system is so non-perceptive he will never be a successful officer anyway. His departure is no loss to the service.

There are repeated instances in which it appears to have taught one or more of those involved a valuable lesson. Hence the Air Force Academy is well advised in accepting resignations on terms that do not bar those who are more or less victims of circumstances a chance to complete their educations elsewhere.

Notre Dame University accepted some of the penitent West Point cadets, but not with prospects of future eligibility for playing football for N.D.U.

The tragedy for the athletes is another and longer story. The cause is likewise too involved for assessment here. Most of it goes right back to the family fireside in the home.

Too many parents do not know there is such a code as those of the academies, and that young men can be expected to and do, live up to them.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
A charming speaking voice is one of a woman's major attractions. Still you hear many, too many, flat, harsh or jangling voices.

All such qualities usually stem from habit, rather than from a flaw in the "voice box." We take our voices for granted. We never listen, and so we don't hear the sounds we make.

Actually a person has several voices, both good and bad. When you constantly use an inferior one, you eventually get stuck with it. Like a needle in a broken record!

Then, if you want to get out of the groove, you have to find and use your most attractive voice. This is done by experimenting with the various tones of which your instrument is capable. Ideally a voice has a low pitch, just enough volume to be clearly heard, and a melodic resonance.

Of those characteristics, resonance is perhaps the most vital for it helps to improve pitch and volume. Increased resonance is fun and easy to acquire. You can improve your voice by listening to the recordings of famous speakers and imitating their tone and pitch.

IT IS A principle known by

simply hum a bit every day!

Hum an "m" sound in low key, and hold it as long as your breath lasts. Repeat 10 times, trying to increase the vibrations set up in the speech passages. Then hum your favorite tune. Lastly translate the hums into words: Repeatedly say home, moan, mine, Ming.

You soon will be charmed by the new clarity, smoothness and melody in your voice. So will everybody else!

CHINATOWN IS A FACADE FOR SWEAT SHOPS

By CLAUDE BURGETT
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's famous Chinatown — that touch of the exotic Far East for thousands of tourists each year — is a facade for a poverty-stricken community, says a Chinese banker who wants to improve conditions.

Behind the fancy bright neon signs, gold-leaf dragons, expensive shop fronts and tempting restaurant entrances are sweat shops, overcrowded apartments and — in recent years — neglected children, says Jun Ke Choy.

Goulding Case In U. S. Court

HARRISBURG (AP)—A hearing is scheduled in U.S. District Court here Tuesday on a writ of habeas corpus petition filed in behalf of Jack Goulding, who since 1962 has been held in the Franklin County Prison for contempt.

Attorney G. Thomas Miller said he would seek Goulding's release on grounds his constitutional rights were being violated by his continued confinement.

Goulding, 35, was ordered jailed in Chambersburg in November, 1962, for failure to obey a child custody order handed down by Judge Chauncey De-puy.

Goulding remained in jail, while his former wife, Thelma, sought other ways to gain custody of their son, Ben, now 9, but the boy resided at the home of his paternal grandmother in Hagerstown, Md., out of jurisdiction of Pennsylvania courts.

62 Lives Lost In Storms In 4 Countries

ROME (AP) — Romans were digging out Wednesday from the worst blizzard in 150 years, while paralyzing snowfalls and freezing temperatures are bringing misery to wide areas of Poland, Greece and Turkey.

The storm dumped 10 inches of snow on Rome in 16 hours. The snow turned to slush deep slush Wednesday but with temperatures hovering around the freezing point, the Italian capital was still partially immobilized.

Seven days of snowstorms and cold claimed 30 lives in Turkey. Fourteen persons died in two avalanches in eastern Turkey. One avalanche buried a home occupied by eight persons.

CLOSE AIRPORT

Ankara's international airport has been closed until further notice.

In Greece, eight persons died in a two-day cold wave that sent temperatures tumbling in the northern part of the country. Heavy snowfalls blocked roads on the Bulgarian and Yugoslav borders.

Blizzards raged across large areas of central and eastern Poland and snowdrifts up to town branch of the San Francisco Federal Savings and Loan Association, said most Chinatown residents know the conditions are bad. They don't talk about it.

"There's nothing quaint about the place to the people who live there," Choy said. "Scratch the surface of Chinatown — and you find a slum."

The word "slum" draws hard glances from those who live there. They are a proud, hard-working people.

PLENTY FOR ALL

"Poverty?" asked one Chinese-American who owns a shop on Grant Avenue — made famous by songs and travel magazines.

"You must be kidding. There's plenty for anyone who wants to work hard."

Choy, who also heads the San Francisco Greater Chinatown Community Service Organization, has organized a committee aimed at qualifying Chinatown for federal antipoverty funds.

"You know," says Choy, "everybody likes to say how thrifty and industrious we are. Well, more than 10,000 of the 42,000 people in Chinatown have to be that way in order to eat."

RICE AND FISH

"Mama and the older sister, they have to work in the Grant Avenue sweatshops so there's enough rice and salted fish to fill the children's stomachs," he said.

Choy said a recent outbreak of juvenile delinquency among Chinese youths is traceable to the homes.

"It's only natural," he said, "they're neglected kids. The old family ties are breaking down. Mama is in the sweatshop and nobody's home."

The density of population in Chinatown is 16 to 1 over the rest of San Francisco, Choy said.

HEAR APPEAL OF CHESTER CITY BOARD

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Board of Education is considering an appeal from the Chester City School Board for exclusion from Delaware County's plan of school district reorganization.

The Chester School Board told an appeals committee of the board Tuesday that the county school officials "gave no weight to racial problems" in drawing up the plan.

At the same time, Upland seven feet blocked rural roads. Two deaths in Rome were blamed on the weather. One man died of cold in his unheated home and another was stricken on a bus overcrowded because of limited service.

The capital does not have a municipal snowplow because snow is so rare. The last record for blizzards was set in 1796 and there have been only three snowfalls of note since then — in 1846, 1939 and 1956.

Borough School District also appealed the plan, which would result in a merger of Upland, Chester and Chester Twp. districts. Upland, which at the present time operates grades 1-8, said its high school pupils could not be provided for adequately by Chester.

STATE BOARD CRITICIZED

Chester wants to stand alone as a district. Upland wants to be placed in proposed Unit 13 with Upper Chichester, Chichester, Trainer and Marcus Hook districts.

Meanwhile, in a related development, Sen. Clarence D. Bell, R-Delaware, criticized the State Board of Education for having only two of its 16 members present to hear reorganization appeals. In a speech on the Senate floor, Bell said he planned to introduce legislation to require a majority of board members to be present.

Severino Stefanon, secretary to the board, said the law specifies only that the board "or its representatives" should conduct appeal hearings.

The statute does not spell out how many members of the board must attend the hearings.

VOICE VOTE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed by voice vote Tuesday and sent to the House a bill to facilitate disposal of unnecessary material in the government's $8.5-billion defense stockpile.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., floor manager for the bill in the Senate, said $5.2 billion worth of the stockpiled material is surplus to defense requirements.

Justice Declines Freedom For Estes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black has refused to order Billie Sol Estes freed on bail from a Texas jail. The action was announced by the Supreme Court clerk Tuesday on word from Florida where the vacationing Black made his decision.

Estes was jailed Jan. 18, the same day the Supreme Court rejected his appeal from federal conviction on conspiracy and mail fraud charges. He had been sentenced to 15 years.

The financier's lawyers petitioned Black to set aside an order by U.S. Dist. Judge R. Ewing Thomason in El Paso rescinding Estes' $100,000 bond.

Visit Cancelled By Beauty Queen

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — South African beauty queen Gail Robinson, who represented her country in the Miss Universe contest in Miami Beach, Fla., has canceled a visit to the Philippines because of political complications in obtaining a visa, the Johannesburg Star reported today.

The newspaper originally reported that Miss Robinson had been told she would get a visa if she signed an anti-apartheid declaration. The Philippine consul general in Cape Town denied this.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronouski said Tuesday he would ask Congress to abolish the air mail category because there no longer is reason for it.

The nation "is on the verge of overnight mail service anywhere in the country," Gronouski told a news conference. "The distinction between air mail and other modes of transportation has become artificial."
